

SAMPLE IS MODERATOR

Presides Over the Presbyterian General Assembly.

TRIUMPH FOR CONSERVATIVES.

He Had 338 Votes, 300 Necessary For Choice—Gavel of Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine Wood Presented—Religious Services at Opening Session.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 19.—Rev. Dr. R. F. Sample of Westminster church, New York, proved an easy winner in the contest for the place of moderator of the one hundred and eleventh annual assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, at Westminster church. Dr. Sample was elected on the first ballot, after a spirited contest, receiving 338 votes, 300 being necessary for a choice, to 127 for the Rev. Matthias Haines of the First church, Indianapolis, and 133 for Rev. Dr. R. F. Coyle of Oakland, Cal. Dr. Sample's election is regarded as a triumph for the conservative element.

The morning session was devoted to religious services, which were attended by about 600 commissioners and so many spectators that the 1,800 seats of the church were not sufficient to accommodate them. Dr. Henry Branch of Elliott City, Md., pronounced the invocation; a quartet sang the anthem "In the Wilderness," by Goss; Rev. Pleasant Hunter of Minneapolis led in responsive reading of the 121st and 122d Psalms; a number of hymns were sung and Dr. Douglas P. Putnam of Logansport, Ind., read the Bible lesson; Dr. R. F. Sample of New York, made the prayer. The sermon was preached by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, Washington.

In the afternoon Permanent Secretary Rev. W. E. Moore called the roll and immediately afterward the election of a moderator was declared to be in order. Dr. McKibben of Cincinnati, hitherto a prominent candidate for the place, nominated Rev. R. F. Sample. This was regarded as a move to concentrate the conservatives on a single candidate. Dr. McKibben said that though some men require certificates of character or orthodoxy Dr. Sample required neither. He was also a man of good judgment and coolness, and clear cut and firm. He appealed to the assembly to elect Dr. Sample unanimously.

Dr. Sample's nomination was seconded by L. Y. Graham of Philadelphia and Rev. John Balcom Shaw of New York. Dr. H. P. Carson of Brooklyn placed in nomination Rev. Matthias Haines of Indianapolis, whom he characterized as a man of keen, ripe judgment, sagacious, methodical and of the most honorable purpose. Rev. Howard Taylor of Baltimore and Rev. D. P. Putnam of Logansport, Ind., seconded the nomination of Dr. Haines.

Dr. E. B. Wright of Austin nominated Judge Robert Wilson of Philadelphia because he said he always made it a point to name an elder. Judge Wilson, however, withdrew his name.

Rev. John Dinsmore, in an eloquent nominating speech, put forward Dr. R. F. Coyle of Oakland, Cal., who was regarded as the liberal candidate. Mr. Dinsmore described Dr. Coyle's merits and begged the assembly once more to name a moderator from the Pacific coast, which felt itself isolated and in need of the inspiration that would flow from such a choice. Elder Montgomery of San Francisco and S. G. Anderson of Maumee, O., seconded Dr. Coyle's nomination.

The moderator appointed as tellers A. R. Quaife, Washington; G. T. Coxhead, St. Louis; J. W. Pettibone, Chicago; P. W. Lyon, West Jersey, Pa. It took almost an hour to take the ballot. The result was greeted with great applause.

Messrs. McKibben, Shaw and Graham were appointed to escort Dr. Sample to the chair. The new moderator expressed his gratitude that the assembly should have chosen him to so high a place in his old pastorate of Westminster, Minneapolis, and among his own people of other days. He spoke of the problems that confront the church and of the urgent necessity of carrying the gospel into the new lands opened by the Spanish-American war.

Rev. Pleasant Hunter welcomed the assembly to Minneapolis, and presented Dr. Sample with a gavel of Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine wood.

A resolution was adopted directing the moderator to send to M. de Staal, president of the international peace conference, a message "invoking the blessing of Almighty God on your deliberations."

Temporary clerks were appointed as follows:

Thomas E. Kirkwood, Pueblo, Colo.; E. T. Swiggett, Cincinnati; P. H. Brooks, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; H. W. Jessup, New York.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated in Westminster church last night, the Rev. Wallace Radcliffe presiding.

John Balcom Shaw, a director of Union Theological seminary, in which Dr. Arthur C. McGiffert is a professor, confirms the statement that Dr. McGiffert has sent a letter anent the so-called heresy case. It is believed that this letter contains a satisfactory explanation of Dr. McGiffert's statements about the Lord's supper in his book, "The Christian Church in the Apostolic Age," and that therefore no heresy proceedings will be taken against him.

INDIGNANT AT GEN. BROOKE.

Alger Displeased With His Disregard of the President's Orders—May Delay Payment of Cubans.

NEW YORK, May 19.—A special to The World from Washington said:

General Brooke was instructed by the president to insist that the arms of the Cubans be turned over to officers of the United States army. Instead General Brooke agreed with General Gomez that the arms shall be surrendered to the mayors of the Cuban cities.

General Corbin left for Hot Springs tonight (Thursday night) to learn from the president whether or not he will insist upon his original order to General Brooke being carried out.

Officials of the war department regard General Brooke's disregard of the president's implicit instructions as a moral victory for General Gomez and the dissatisfied Cubans.

Secretary Alger is highly indignant over General Brooke's surprising disregard of the president's strict orders. He tonight (Thursday night) telegraphed to president full details.

It is generally conceded that these developments in Cuba will greatly delay the distribution of the $3,000,000 to the Cuban army.

Gomez Issued a Manifesto.

HAVANA, May 19.—The expected manifesto of General Maximo Gomez was issued last evening. It reviews his part in the negotiations with Governor General Brooke, and spoke of his love for Cuba and his sufferings on her behalf in the past. General Gomez then justified his course.

Declared His Friends Do Not Consider Alger's Candidacy Seriously.

DETROIT, May 19.—At a conference held between Senator McMillan and several of his political friends, Republican leaders from various parts of Michigan, it was decided that Senator McMillan will be a candidate for a third term as United States senator. According to the expressions of some of those who were in the conference, the senator and his friends did not apprehend that Secretary Alger's candidacy for the senatorship will develop into anything formidable.

Amalgamated Association Convention.

DETROIT, May 19.—The Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers settled down to discussions of the wage schedules. The reports of the wage committees were said to embody demands for increases which will be a minimum of 15 per cent. The convention will likely be engaged on the wage scale for a week.

Rebel Commission Expected at Manila Today.

INSURRECTION LIKELY ENDING.

People of Manila Confident—Commissioners Reached San Isidro Last Night. Otis Sent Good News—Aguinaldo Reported as Acting the Coward.

MANILA, May 19.—(10 a. m.)—Philippine commissioners to confer with the American commission regarding surrender arrived last night at San Isidro and are coming to Manila today.

The people of Manila are confident that the insurrection is ending.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—General Otis has cabled the war department as follows:

MANILA, May 18.

Representatives of the insurgent cabinet and Aguinaldo, who are in the mountainous 12 miles north of San Isidro, which was abandoned on the 15th inst., will send in a commission tomorrow to seek terms of peace.

The majority of the force confronting MacArthur at San Fernando has retired to Tarlac, tearing up two miles of railway. This force has decreased to about 2,500. Scouting parties and detachments are moving today in various directions. Major Kobbe, with his command, is at Candaya, on the Rio Grande. The great majority of the inhabitants of the provinces over which the troops have moved are anxious for peace, and are supported by members of the insurgent cabinet. The aspect of affairs at present is favorable.

MANILA, May 19.—Two Spanish prisoners arrived here from Nueva Ecija said Aguinaldo had lost prestige with the rebel army, which was described as being completely demoralized, short of food, suffering from diseases, afraid of

The prisoners added that Generals Pilar and Luna were the only influential Filipinos who were continuing resistance to the Americans.

Aguinaldo's personal retinue was recently relieved of its baggage and money while on the way from San Isidro to Bebanatan by marauders.

Some of Chinese were being victimized by both rebels and looters.

Buenacaminio, a prominent Filipino leader, who was friendly to Spain and joined in the compromise arrangement, whereby the Spaniards hoped to conciliate the rebel leaders without sacrificing too much, was reported as saying Aguinaldo sat indoors crying and blamed himself for the miserable condition of the country and was afraid to surrender.

Another of Taylor's Victims Died.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—Another chapter was added to the Montgomery county tragedy, when Mrs. Dora W. Rosenstein died at the Maryland University hospital. Her husband, Louis Rosenstein, died at the same institution last Sunday. The couple were beaten into insensibility at their little store at Slidell, Montgomery county, last Saturday morning. Humphrey Taylor, who shot and instantly killed Police Sergeant Fritz Passau of Washington, was believed to be the murderer of the Rosensteins.

CZAR CONGRATULATED.

Peace Conference Sent Messages to Him and Queen Wilhelmina—Sessions to Be Secret.

THE HAGUE, May 19.—The peace conference called by the czar of Russia held the opening session in the hall of the Huis Ten Bosch, or the "House in the Woods," two miles from The Hague.

M. De Beaufort, president of the council and minister of the Netherlands, delivered the inaugural address and welcomed the delegates.

The delegates decided to send the following telegram to the czar:

"The peace conference lays at the feet of your majesty its respectful congratulations upon the occasion of your birthday and expressed its sincere desire to co-operate in the great and noble work in which your majesty has taken a generous initiative and for which it begs you to accept its humble and profound gratitude."

After making his address M. De Staal, in behalf of the conference, telegraphed to the queen of the Netherlands as follows:

"The members of this conference assembled for the first time in this beautiful Huis Ten Bosch, hasten to lay at the feet of your majesty their best wishes, praying you to accept their homage and gratitude for the hospitality you have so graciously deigned to offer them."

The reading of the message was warmly applauded.

M. De Beaufort was appointed honorary president and the leading Dutch delegate, A. P. C. Van Karnebeck, former minister of foreign affairs and deputy, was appointed vice president.

After the appointment of nine secretaries M. DeStaal's proposal that the sessions be secret was adopted.

The next session will take place tomorrow, when the delegates will arrange a program and appoint committees.

The conference then adjourned. The session lasted only about 25 minutes and the apparent unanimity displayed was considered to augur well for the outcome.

FLOWER GAVE A TENTH.

This Was His Practice, Although His Gifts Were Greater—Left Charitable Bequests.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., May 19.—The will of the late ex-Governor Flower was filed for probate. He left bequests to various relatives and to his former parish, New York, for the benefit of the parish house erected in memory of his son, who died in 1889, and $10,000 to Trinity parish, Watertown, for the benefit of the poor. The residue was left to his widow and daughter.

Governor Flower had made a practice for years of giving away at least one-tenth of his income. His gifts, however, have always far exceeded his regular tithe. During the last year, it was learned from the best authority, he gave away directly or indirectly over $1,000,000.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT ACCEPTED.

Birmingham University Committee So Announced—An Anonymous Donor.

BIRMINGHAM, May 19.—The committee of Birmingham university announced that the conditions attached to Andrew Carnegie's offer of £50,000 to the institution had been fulfilled, the subscriptions having reached £254,580.

It was also announced that Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, who has taken from the outset a very lively interest in the undertaking, had also received a letter from the anonymous donor who has already given £37,500, offering an additional £12,500 pounds if the proposed endowment is increased to £300,000.

SUPPOSED MESSAGE FROM ANDREE.

A Letter Written by the Balloonist Said to Have Been Found.

LEITH, Scotland, May 19.—The Norwegian ship Viking, arrived here from Soydisfjord, brought a report of a letter written by Prof. Andree, found in a bottle early in April, near Rottang, on the northeast coast of Iceland, by a farmer named Johann Magnusson. The letter was addressed to the Polar Expedition at Goeteberg, and bore Andree's own stamp, with the request that it be placed in the nearest postoffice.

Magnusson, it was added, gave the letter to a merchant, Sevin Einaison, at Thistilfjord, who mailed it and it was expected to arrive at its destination in the course of a few days.

MRS. GEORGE'S FROST

Ninety-two People at Rock Spring Last Night.

SEVENTEEN WOMEN WERE THERE

Manager McElhanev Threatened to Make a Speech Too, but Took Pity on the Suffering Audience—Mrs. George, However, Was Pitiless, and Read the Whole Lecture to the Bitter, Bitter End.

Vice is sometimes described as attractive; sometimes as revolting. Mrs. Anna E. George is neither. Worse still, she is uninteresting.

There were 92 people at her lecture at Rock Spring last night, 17 of whom were women and two were children. Her manager knew his business when he only booked her for a one night performance here. If she had been billed for another exhibition tonight, even the boy in the box office would have stayed away.

At 8:45 o'clock there were 40 people in the house and the lecture was corked until another car arrived. This was at 9:15. About 9:30 Manager McElhanev appeared on the platform, put his arm caressingly on top of the piano and invited the audience to assemble itself on the vacant chairs in the body of the hall. It should be explained that the seats downstairs were supposed to be reserved and cost 35 cents each. Those in the gallery were a quarter. Of those present 60 were in the gallery and the rest below. Half of those in the gallery accepted Mr. McElhanev's invitation.

The others remained where they were. The manager retired until another car arrived, bringing six more of an audience, when once more he caressed the piano top and took the audience into his confidence. It had been, he said, his intention to make a little speech himself, but he had thought he wouldn't. So he wouldn't, but would now have the pleasure of introducing to them Mrs. Anna E. George. Two of the audience greeted her with subdued applause.

The lecturer is a woman rather above the medium height, of slim figure and no particular beauty. She wore a black skirt and a grey waist. She carried her lecture in her hands, it probably being too intellectually heavy to carry in her head. She made no pretense to deliver it, but read it in a jerky, disconnected way that would have cost a primary grade pupil in the public schools half an hour in a corner with his face to the wall. Her platform attitude was awkward and immovable. She just stood and read.

The lecture itself was the same as that delivered elsewhere. It was entitled "A Sketch From Life," and had about as much life in it as Bryan's boom for 1900. It was made up of a bald recital of her marriage, her meeting with Saxton, her separation from Sample C. George, and a few chunks of "Take warning by me," "In heaven's name profit by my bitter, bitter, bitter experience," thrown in to give the desired moral tone that would catch suckers. It was not sensational; it was not instructive; it was not interesting. There may be worse lecturers and a worse lecture, but it is a million to one shot there isn't. It's a pity Mrs. George didn't lecture to the jury. If she had—well, the verdict would have been different.

Presides Over the Presbyterian General Assembly.

TRIUMPH FOR CONSERVATIVES.

He Had 338 Votes, 300 Necessary For Choice—Gavel of Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine Wood Presented—Religious Services at Opening Session.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 19.—Rev. Dr. R. F. Sample of Westminster church, New York, proved an easy winner in the contest for the place of moderator of the one hundred and eleventh annual assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, at Westminster church. Dr. Sample was elected on the first ballot, after a spirited contest, receiving 338 votes, 300 being necessary for a choice, to 127 for the Rev. Matthias Haines of the First church, Indianapolis, and 133 for Rev. Dr. R. F. Coyle of Oakland, Cal. Dr. Sample's election is regarded as a triumph for the conservative element.

The morning session was devoted to religious services, which were attended by about 600 commissioners and so many spectators that the 1,800 seats of the church were not sufficient to accommodate them. Dr. Henry Branch of Elliott City, Md., pronounced the invocation; a quartet sang the anthem "In the Wilderness," by Goss; Rev. Pleasant Hunter of Minneapolis led in responsive reading of the 121st and 122d Psalms; a number of hymns were sung and Dr. Douglas P. Putnam of Logansport, Ind., read the Bible lesson; Dr. R. F. Sample of New York, made the prayer. The sermon was preached by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, Washington.

In the afternoon Permanent Secretary Rev. W. E. Moore called the roll and immediately afterward the election of a moderator was declared to be in order. Dr. McKibben of Cincinnati, hitherto a prominent candidate for the place, nominated Rev. R. F. Sample. This was regarded as a move to concentrate the conservatives on a single candidate. Dr. McKibben said that though some men require certificates of character or orthodoxy Dr. Sample required neither. He was also a man of good judgment and coolness, and clear cut and firm. He appealed to the assembly to elect Dr. Sample unanimously.

Dr. Sample's nomination was seconded by L. Y. Graham of Philadelphia and Rev. John Balcom Shaw of New York. Dr. H. P. Carson of Brooklyn placed in nomination Rev. Matthias Haines of Indianapolis, whom he characterized as a man of keen, ripe judgment, sagacious, methodical and of the most honorable purpose. Rev. Howard Taylor of Baltimore and Rev. D. P. Putnam of Logansport, Ind., seconded the nomination of Dr. Haines.

Dr. E. B. Wright of Austin nominated Judge Robert Wilson of Philadelphia because he said he always made it a point to name an elder. Judge Wilson, however, withdrew his name.

Rev. John Dinsmore, put forward Dr. R. F. Coyle of Oakland, Cal., who was regarded as the liberal candidate. Mr. Dinsmore described Dr. Coyle's merits and begged the assembly once more to name a moderator from the Pacific coast, which felt itself isolated and in need of the inspiration that would flow from such a choice. Elder Montgomery of San Francisco and S. G. Anderson of Maumee, O., seconded Dr. Coyle's nomination.

The moderator appointed as tellers A. R. Quaffie, Washington; G. T. Oorhead, St. Louis; J. W. Pettibone, Chicago; P. W. Lyon, West Jersey, Pa. It took almost an hour to take the ballot. The result was greeted with great applause.

Messrs. McKibben, Shaw and Graham were appointed to escort Dr. Sample to the chair. The new moderator expressed his gratitude that the assembly should have chosen him to so high a place in his old pastorate of Westminster, Minneapolis, and among his own people of other days. He spoke of the problems that confront the church and of the urgent necessity of carrying the gospel into the new lands opened by the Spanish-American war.

Rev. Pleasant Hunter welcomed the assembly to Minneapolis, and presented Dr. Sample with a gavel of Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine wood.

A resolution was adopted directing the moderator to send to M. de Staal, president of the international peace conference, a message "invoking the blessing of Almighty God on your deliberations."

Temporary clerks were appointed as follows: Thomas E. Kirkwood, Pueblo, Colo.; E. T. Swiggett, Cincinnati; P. H. Brooks, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; H. W. Jessup, New York.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated in Westminster church last night, the Rev. Wallace Radcliffe presiding.

John Balcom Shaw, a director of Union Theological seminary, in which Dr. Arthur C. McGiffert is a professor, confirms the statement that Dr. McGiffert has sent a letter anent the so-called heresy case. It is believed that this letter contains a satisfactory explanation of Dr. McGiffert's statements about the Lord's supper in his book, "The Christian Church in the Apostolic Age," and that therefore no heresy proceedings will be taken against him.

THE HAGUE, May 19.—The peace conference called by the czar of Russia held the opening session in the hall of the Huis Ten Bosch, or the "House in the Woods," two miles from The Hague.

M. De Beaufort, president of the council and minister of foreign affairs of the government of the Netherlands, delivered the inaugural address and welcomed the delegates.

The delegates decided to send the following telegram to the czar:

"The peace conference lays at the feet of your majesty its respectful congratulations upon the occasion of your birthday and expressed its sincere desire to co-operate in the great and noble work in which your majesty has taken a generous initiative and for which it begs you to accept its humble and profound gratitude."

After making his address M. De Staal, in behalf of the conference, telegraphed to the queen of the Netherlands as follows:

"The members of this conference assembled for the first time in this beautiful Huis Ten Bosch, hasten to lay at the feet of your majesty their best wishes, praying you to accept their homage and gratitude for the hospitality you have so graciously deigned to offer them."

The reading of the message was warmly applauded.

M. De Beaufort was appointed honorary president and the leading Dutch delegate A. P. C. Van Kamebeck, former minister of foreign affairs and deputy, was appointed vice president.

After the appointment of nine secretaries M. De Staal's proposal that the sessions be secret was adopted.

The next session will take place tomorrow, when the delegates will arrange a program and appoint committees.

The conference then adjourned. The session lasted only about 25 minutes and the apparent unanimity displayed was considered to augur well for the outcome.

M'KINLEY TO THE CZAR.

Sent a Message of Congratulation on Opening of Peace Conference.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The following cablegram has been addressed by the president to the emperor of Russia on the opening of the disarmament conference:

WASHINGTON, May 18. To His Majesty Nicholas II, Emperor of all the Russias, St. Petersburg: On this day of good omen I send my heartfelt congratulations on the opening of the conference at The Hague, which had its origin in the enlightened and generous initiative of your majesty. M'KINLEY.

FLOWER GAVE A TENTH.

This Was His Practice, Although His Gifts Were Greater—Left Charitable Bequests.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., May 19.—The will of the late ex-Governor Flower was filed for probate. He left bequests to various relatives and to his former cashier, $10,000 interest to St. Thomas parish, New York, for the benefit of the parish house erected in memory of his son, who died in 1880, and $10,000 to Trinity parish, Watertown, for the benefit of the poor. The residue was left to his widow and daughter.

Governor Flower had made a practice for years of giving away at least one-tenth of his income. His gifts, however, have always far exceeded his regular tithe. During the last year, it was learned from the best authority, he gave away directly or indirectly over $1,000,000.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT ACCEPTED.

Birmingham University Committee So Announced—An Anonymous Donor.

BIRMINGHAM, May 19.—The committee of Birmingham university announced that the conditions attached to Andrew Carnegie's offer of $50,000 to the institution had been fulfilled, the subscriptions having reached $254,580.

It was also announced that Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, who has taken from the outset a very lively interest in the undertaking, had also received a letter from the anonymous donor who has already given $37,500, offering an additional $12,500 pounds if the proposed endowment is increased to £300,000.

SUPPOSED MESSAGE FROM ANDREE.

A Letter Written by the Balloonist Said to Have Been Found.

LEITH, Scotland, May 19.—The Norwegian ship Viking, arrived here from Soydisfjord, brought a report of a letter written by Prof. Andree, found in a bottle early in April, near Rottang, on the northeast coast of Iceland, by a farmer named Johann Magnusson. The letter was addressed to the Polar Expedition at Goeteborg, and bore Andree's own stamp, with the request that it be placed in the nearest postoffice.

Magnusson, it was added, gave the letter to a merchant, Sevin Einaison, at Thistilfjord, who mailed it and it was expected to arrive at its destination in the course of a few days.

MRS. GEORGE'S FROST

Ninety-two People at Rock Spring Last Night.

SEVENTEEN WOMEN WERE THERE

Manager McElhaney Threatened to Make a Speech Too, but Took Pity on the Suffering Audience—Mrs. George, However, Was Pitiless, and Read the Whole Lecture to the Bitter, Bitter End.

Vice is sometimes described as attractive; sometimes as revolting. Mrs. Anna E. George is neither. Worse still, she is uninteresting.

There were 92 people at her lecture at Rock Spring last night, 17 of whom were women and two were children. Her manager knew his business when he only booked her for a one night performance here. If she had been billed for another exhibition tonight, even the boy in the box office would have stayed away.

At 8:45 o'clock there were 40 people in the house and the lecture was corked until another car arrived. This was at 9:15. About 9:30 Manager McElhaney appeared on the platform, put his arm caressingly on top of the piano and invited the audience to assemble itself on the vacant chairs in the body of the hall. It should be explained that the seats downstairs were supposed to be reserved and cost 35 cents each. Those in the gallery were a quarter. Of those present 60 were in the gallery and the rest below. Half of those in the gallery accepted Mr. McElhaney's invitation. The others remained where they were.

The manager retired until another car arrived, bringing six more of an audience, when once more he caressed the piano top and took the audience into his confidence. It had been, he said, his intention to make a little speech himself, but he had thought he wouldn't. So he wouldn't, but would now have the pleasure of introducing to them Mrs. Anna E. George. Two of the audience greeted her with subdued applause.

The lecturer is a woman rather above the medium height, of slim figure and no particular beauty. She wore a black skirt and a grey waist. She carried her lecture in her hands, it probably being too intellectually heavy to carry in her head. She made no pretense to deliver it, but read it in a jerky, disconnected way that would have cost a primary grade pupil in the public schools half an hour in a corner with his face to the wall. Her platform attitude was awkward and immovable. She just stood and read.

The lecture itself was the same as that delivered elsewhere. It was entitled "A Sketch From Life," and had about as much life in it as Bryan's boom for 1900. It was made up of a bald recital of her marriage, her meeting with Saxton, her separation from Sample O. George, and a few chunks of "Take warning by me," "In heaven's name profit by my bitter, bitter, bitter experience," thrown in to give the desired moral tone that would catch suckers. It was not sensational; it was not instructive; it was not interesting. There may be worse lecturers and a worse lecture, but it is a million to one shot there isn't. It's a pity Mrs. George didn't lecture to the jury. If she had—well, the verdict would have been different.

BRICK WORK STARTED

On the New Pottery Yesterday Afternoon.

STOCK TAKING AT SEWER WORKS

Completed Yesterday Morning—The Firm Out of Many Sizes—Replacing the Gable at the Fire Station—Quarterly Conference at the Second M. E. Church.

The brick work on the new pottery being erected by the Laughlin China company was commenced yesterday afternoon. Not many bricks were laid, but this morning a larger force of men were placed on the work, and much progress was made during the day. Contractor Gamble, in speaking of the work, said:

"We have placed orders for 1,500,000 brick, and these will be consumed in constructing the walls, kilns and laying brick floors. We expect to have our part of the work completed by the middle of August and ware will be placed in the kilns not later than Sept. 15. The glost kilns are the same as in use at the other potteries, being 15.6 feet in diameter, and have a down drafter. The latter is a patent kiln and is now in use at the Laughlin pottery on the river."

The foundation for the plant will be completed within a few weeks. The masons are now working on the foundation of what will be known later as the warehouse. The bricklayers who are now employed at the new Salem pottery will be put to work at the plant in East End.

Through Taking Stock.

The work of taking stock at the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson sewer pipe works was completed yesterday morning. The work was in the hands of Jess Wright and Isaiah Tice. The men found the stock very low, and the plant at the present time is out of about 15 different sizes. As pipe is being shipped every day, the stock is running very low, and within a short time the yards will be empty. When the plant is put in operation a steady run is anticipated.

Work was commenced this morning repairing the portions of the main building that were damaged by the recent storm. It will be completed by the last of next week. A portion of the roof destroyed will have to be replaced with new material.

Quarterly Conference.

The regular quarterly communion will be observed by the congregation of the Second M. E. church next Sunday evening. The sermon will be preached by Presiding Elder Jackson, of the Steubenville district of the Methodist Protestant conference. On Monday night at 8 o'clock the quarterly conference will meet. Considerable business will be transacted.

That New Kiln.

The new kiln being erected at the East End pottery will be completed, it is thought, next week. The kiln has been in course of construction since last week. It is probable an additional kiln will be erected at this pottery some time in the very near future. The plant is running full and a large amount of orders are being received daily.

Replaced the Gable.

Yesterday work was commenced replacing the gable on the fire station that was blown down by the storm of Tuesday evening. The work is being done by three men, and it is thought they will complete the work by Monday. The gable will be made more secure than the old one.

Raise For a Postmaster.

The salary of the postmaster of Leetonia has been raised from $1,500 to $1,600 per annum. Also an additional $100 has been given to the postmaster for clerk hire, which makes the post-office in that city a $1,700 office. The increase will take effect July 1.

Secured a Position.

Earl P. Carman left yesterday for Bethany, W. Va., where he has taken a position as salesman in a large store at that place. He will remain there during the summer, but in the fall will go back to school.

Sent Some Pipe Away.

The sewer pipe works yesterday shipped a car load of sewer pipe to Se-wickley. Several cars have been sent away during the week.

HELD A JOINT SESSION

Two Boards of Health Adopt Stringent Measures

IN REGARD TO EXPECTORATING

In Street Cars and All Public Conveyances as Well as Public Buildings—The Action Will Be Reported to the Councils With the Request That They Take Action.

The joint session of the health boards of this city and Wellsville, held last evening at city hall, was a flattering success.

Mayor Bough presided, and there were present at the meeting D. F. Nellis, Cross Kerr, Ben Haines, Doctor Andrews, J. H. Burgess, Doctor Ogden, representing the local board, while the Wellsville members who were present were Dr. F. K. Hutcherson, Peter Knepper, J. S. Windram, H. M. McCreary. Clerk Bursner acted as secretary of the meeting.

Mayor Bough explained that the object of the meeting was to take some action toward prohibiting expectorating in street cars and to informally discuss the matter with a view of making a recommendation to the councils of the two cities. He then stated that he thought it would be a good idea for the body to consider the garbage question as it was one that vitally concerned the two cities. He read an extract from an act of congress passed March 3, 1899, which prohibited the depositing of garbage in the river or on the banks of any navigable streams, the only exception being in favor of sewers. A penalty of $500 to $2,500 is imposed for violation of the act. The mayor said he was exceedingly anxious to see some action taken in regard to the matter, as he didn't want any penalty for this city.

Mr. Haines opened the discussion by asking Clerk Bursner to read the copies of ordinances he had against spitting in street cars. The clerk read the Boston ordinance which declared that the depositing of sputum in street cars was a nuisance and a penalty was imposed for violating the same. The Pittsburg ordinance makes it unlawful to expectorate in public conveyances. The penalty for violating the same is not less than $1 nor more than $5 for each offense.

Doctor Hutcherson stated that it was he who first called the matter to the attention of the Wellsville board, and his reason for so doing was that one day he was riding on a street car between the two cities, and directly in front of him was a consumptive who expectorated on the floor depositing a mass of filth that was horrible to see. He said another reason for passing the ordinance was the fact that it was impossible for ladies to go in the cars with good clothes on as some of the cars almost swim in tobacco spit. He was heartily in favor of having the ordinance go through.

Mr. Windram stated that the Pittsburg ordinance was all right but that it should take in the public sidewalks, as he considered that the greatest nuisance of all as the ladies seldom went up street that they did not return home with some filth on their skirts. He did not think it would be much trouble for people to spit in the gutters.

Doctor Andrews said he heartily agreed with the movement, but in regard to spitting on the sidewalks he thought it would be a good idea for the ladies to curtail the fashion and not wear such long trains. He did not think an ordinance of that kind could be enforced, but Doctor Hutcherson stated that such an ordinance was in effect in Cincinnati.

Mr. McCreary was in favor of an ordinance prohibiting spitting in public buildings, sidewalks and street cars, and thought it was the duty of the board to take some action. Mr. Knepper thought if an ordinance could be passed in regard to street cars one could be passed in regard to sidewalks.

Mr. Haines was in favor of the street car ordinance, but not in regard to sidewalks, and said he would vote against an ordinance of that kind. Mr. Nellis favored the ordinance with the additions, as did Mr. Kerr. Doctor Ogden was of the same opinion, while Sanitary Officer Burgess made a strong speech on the subject.

Mr. Kerr made a motion that the two councils be presented with a communication stating that it was the sense of the boards that an ordinance be passed prohibiting spitting in streets cars, public conveyances and public buildings. The motion carried and Mr. Haines asked how an ordinance of that kind could be enforced. Mayor Bough replied that if the people wanted the ordinance it was their duty to make information when they saw it violated.

The action will be reported to the city solicitor and an effort will be made to have the ordinance introduced at the next meeting of council.

LEFT THE RAILS.

Serious Accident Narrowly Avoided Near Leetonia Yesterday.

LISBON, May 19.—[Special.]—Yesterday afternoon as the Erie train was about a mile south of Leetonia going toward Lisbon at the rate of 30 miles an hour the rails on one side of the track turned and both coaches and all but the front truck on the engine left the track. Engineer Dunn stopped the train within 200 yards. No one was hurt. The engine from the coal train went up and helped the passenger engine to pull the cars on the solid track. The truck of the baggage coach was damaged some and left at Franklin Square. The regular train came into Lisbon with one coach three hours later. Judge Wells was a passenger on the train from Battle Creek.

NEXT WEEK

Will the Cleaning of the Fire Station Be Completed.

The fire station is being cleaned throughout and the work will be completed probably next week. The washing of the inside wood work has made quite a change in the appearance of the building. It is thought that the outside of the building will be painted, although nothing definite as yet has been done in the matter.

Trials and Tribulations.

Sore trials and tribulations seem to be the inheritance of the town of Wellsville. Just after the bonds had recently been sold for the extension of the water system the iron pipe trust went into effect and the price of pipe advanced several dollars per ton. Again, when the bonds have been sold for an extensive sewer system the sewerpipe trust is about take hold of things, with a prospect that the selling price of sewerpipe will advance 25 per cent or more. HELD A JOINT SESSION

Two Boards of Health Adopt Stringent Measures

IN REGARD TO EXPECTORATING

In Street Cars and All Public Conveyances as Well as Public Buildings—The Action Will Be Reported to the Councils With the Request That They Take Action.

The joint session of the health boards of this city and Wellsville, held last evening at city hall, was a flattering success.

Mayor Bough presided, and there were present at the meeting D. F. Nellis, Cross Kerr, Ben Haines, Doctor Andrews, J. H. Burgess, Doctor Ogden, representing the local board, while the Wellsville members who were present were Dr. F. K. Hutcheson, Peter Knepper, J. S. Windram, H. M. McCreary. Clerk Bursner acted as secretary of the meeting.

Mayor Bough explained that the object of the meeting was to take some action toward prohibiting expectorating in street cars and to informally discuss the matter with a view of making a recommendation to the councils of the two cities. He then stated that he thought it would be a good idea for the body to consider the garbage question as it was one that vitally concerned the two cities. He read an extract from an act of congress passed March 3, 1899, which prohibited the depositing of garbage in the river or on the banks of any navigable streams, the only exception being in favor of sewers. A penalty of $500 to $2,500 is imposed for violation of the act. The mayor said he was exceedingly anxious to see some action taken in regard to the matter, as he didn't want any penalty for this city.

Mr. Haines opened the discussion by asking Clerk Bursner to read the copies of ordinances he had against spitting in street cars. The clerk read the Boston ordinance which declared that the depositing of sputum in street cars was a nuisance and a penalty was imposed for violating the same. The Pittsburg ordinance makes it unlawful to expectorate in public conveyances. The penalty for violating the same is not less than $1 nor more than $5 for each offense.

Doctor Hutcheson stated that it was he who first called the matter to the attention of the Wellsville board, and his reason for so doing was that one day he was riding on a street car between the two cities, and directly in front of him was a consumptive who expectorated on the floor depositing a mass of filth that was horrible to see. He said another reason for passing the ordinance was the fact that it was impossible for ladies to go in the cars with good clothes on as some of the cars almost swim in tobacco spit. He was heartily in favor of having the ordinance go through.

Mr. Windram stated that the Pittsburg ordinance was all right but that it should take in the public sidewalks, as he considered that the greatest nuisance of all as the ladies seldom went up street that they did not return home with some filth on their skirts. He did not think it would be much trouble for people to spit in the gutters.

Doctor Andrews said he heartily agreed with the movement, but in regard to spitting on the sidewalks he thought it would be a good idea for the ladies to curtail the fashion and not wear such long trains. He did not think an ordinance of that kind could be enforced, but Doctor Hutcheson stated that such an ordinance was in effect in Cincinnati.

Mr. McCreary was in favor of an ordinance prohibiting spitting in public buildings, sidewalks and street cars, and thought it was the duty of the board to take some action. Mr. Knepper thought if an ordinance could be passed in regard to street cars one could be passed in regard to sidewalks.

Mr. Haines was in favor of the street car ordinance, but not in regard to sidewalks, and said he would vote against an ordinance of that kind. Mr. Nellis favored the ordinance with the additions, as did Mr. Kerr. Doctor Ogden was of the same opinion, while Sanitary Officer Burgess made a strong speech on the subject.

Mr. Kerr made a motion that the two councils be presented with a communication stating that it was the sense of the boards that an ordinance be passed prohibiting spitting in streets cars, public conveyances and public buildings. The motion carried and Mr. Haines asked how an ordinance of that kind could be enforced. Mayor Bough replied that if the people wanted the ordinance it was their duty to make information when they saw it violated.

The action will be reported to the city solicitor and an effort will be made to have the ordinance introduced at the next meeting of council.

LEFT THE RAILS.

Serious Accident Narrowly Avoided Near Leetonia Yesterday.

LISBON, May 19.—[Special.]—Yesterday afternoon as the Erie train was about a mile south of Leetonia going toward Lisbon at the rate of 30 miles an hour the rails on one side of the track turned and both coaches and all but the front truck on the engine left the track. Engineer Dunn stopped the train within 200 yards. No one was hurt. The engine from the coal train went up and helped the passenger engine to pull the cars on the solid track. The truck of the baggage coach was damaged some and left at Franklin Square. The regular train came into Lisbon with one coach three hours later. Judge Wells was a passenger on the train from Battle Creek.

Trials and Tribulations.

Sore trials and tribulations seem to be the inheritance of the town of Wellsville. Again, when the bonds have been sold for an extensive sewer system the sewerpipe trust is about take hold of things, with a prospect that the selling price of sewerpipe will advance 25 per cent or more. THE George show had a rocky time at Rock Springs.

MRS. GEORGE carries her frost with her. Last night was the coldest May evening in years.

ANNA may have been justified in shooting at Saxton but there is no justification for her shooting a lecture at unoffending strangers.

A CREDIT TO THE CITY.

The failure of Mrs. George's lecture in this city is a credit to East Liverpool.
 It proves to the world that the people of this community are a self respecting people, with a true appreciation of their duty as citizens and individuals. Those who went to hear the lecture were sufficiently punished by the infliction of an hour of insipid moralizing delivered in a monotonous sing-song by a woman without any single attribute that goes to make an attractive platform speaker.
 There may be divergent opinions as to
 Mrs. George's proper place in the world just now, but there is no difference of opinion about it not being the lecture platform.

FOR CLEANLINESS.

The decision of the joint meeting of the boards of health of this city and Wellsville in favor of the passage of an ordinance prohibiting spitting in street
 cars, public buildings and public conveyances will be approved by everyone.
 It is a distinct advance towards the protection of health and in the line of public decency. There should be no difficulty in enforcing the law which is already observed by all who have the slightest pretension to good manners. The suggestion that a similar ordinance be enacted prohibiting spitting
 upon sidewalks will be equally welcome.
 The city of Pittsburg has had such a law
 for some years and it has greatly improved the reputation of that city. If it can be enforced there it should be enforced here. All decent citizens will rejoice when the new laws are in effect
 and strictly enforced, and no time should be lost in passing both ordinances, covering not only street cars
 and public buildings, but the sidewalks
 as well.

ANNA may have been justified in shooting at Saxton but there is no justification for her shooting a lecture at un-
offending strangers.

A CREDIT TO THE CITY.

The failure of Mrs. George's lecture in this city is a credit to East Liverpool.
It proves to the world that the people of this community are a self respecting people, with a true appreciation of their duty as citizens and individuals. Those who went to hear the lecture were sufficiently punished by the infliction of an hour of insipid moralizing delivered in a monotonous sing-song by a women
without any single attribute that goes
to make an attractive platform speaker.
There may be divergent opinions as to
Mrs. George's proper place in the world
just now, but there is no difference of opinion about it not being the lecture
platform.

FOR CLEANLINESS.

The decision of the joint meeting of the boards of health of this city and Wellsville in favor of the passage of an ordinance prohibiting spitting in street
cars, public buildings and public conveyances will be approved by everyone.
It is a distinct advance towards the protection of health and in the line of public decency. There should be no difficulty in enforcing the law
which is already observed by all who have the slightest pretension to good manners. The suggestion that a similar ordinance be enacted prohibiting spitting
upon sidewalks will be equally welcome.
The city of Pittsburg has had such a law
for some years and it has greatly improved the reputation of that city. If it can be enforced there it should be enforced here. All decent citizens will rejoice when the new laws are in effect
and strictly enforced, and no time
should be lost in passing both ordinances, covering not only street cars
and public buildings, but the sidewalks
as well.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION

May Cause Some Trouble to the City.

A FURNACE MUST BE BUILT

Congress Has Passed an Act Prohibiting the Dumping of Garbage in the River, and a Heavy Penalty Is Attached--The Matter Will Be Presented to Council.

The garbage question was thoroughly discussed last evening at the meeting of the board of health.

Mayor Bough stated that he had received an intimation that somebody along the Ohio river was going to get into serious trouble if the dumping of garbage in the river was not stopped, and he didn't think the city had any money to pay out in fines.

Mr. Haines stated that he had found out that there was nothing in the story that a man had erected a furnace in Beaver Falls in order to get a franchise. Clerk Bursner stated that he had been in Beaver Falls, and said a franchise had been granted A. R. Leyda, but when the time arrived to build the furnace he had failed to put up a bond, and the matter fell through.

Mayor Bough said the board was face to face with a serious question and he feared an attack from some source. Mr. Kerr told of the numerous letters he had received and estimated that a furnace for the city would cost $14,000. Clerk Bursner said it oughtn't to cost over $7,500, while Doctor Hutchison said the Youngstown furnace only cost $6,000.

Mr. Windram said a garbage furnace was a wilful waste and the garbage was worth thousands of dollars. He said he had visited the city of Leicester, Eng., and that city made $25,000 a year out of the garbage. He was in favor of a furnace but thought the city should own it.

Mr. Haines thought it was time the board asked council for an appropriation as a furnace would have to be built.

Doctor Ogden said he had noticed in a Pittsburg paper where parties below here had written the war department asking about the matter.

Upon motion of Mr. Nellis the president of the board was appointed to appear before council and explain the matter to them.

Tanyard run was again discussed and the board finally proposed a motion declaring the run a nuisance, and that council be required to cover the run immediately.

A vote of thanks was tendered the Wellsville board of health, and the party went to an uptown restaurant where they partook of refreshments at the expense of Mayor Bough.

READY TO BUILD

The Proposed Railroad Between This Place and Lisbon.

The promoters of the Liverpool and Lisbon railroad are now ready to advertise for bids for the construction of the road from West Point to Lisbon. A representative of the company was seen this morning and said that the only thing delaying the work was the waiting to see if the work of the solicitors who are now soliciting purchasers of the traffic certificates is successful. "So far everything has been in our favor, and I firmly believe the road will be built this year."

ROAD WAS CLEARED.

The Tracks at Merrill Station Now in Good Shape.

The work of clearing the tracks at Merrill of the slide which occurred Wednesday night was completed this morning. The steam shovel was used to advantage, and as a result some quick work was done. The tracks were straightened yesterday afternoon, and the pile driver will be sent to the place of the accident to strengthen the south bank of the road. The loss to the company was in the neighborhood of $500.

WAS A POLICEMAN

In the City of Havana For Six Months.

REGULAR'S OPINION OF THE CITY

One's Life Is In Constant Danger In the Hands of the Cubans, While the Spaniards Act Like Gentlemen--A Taste of Bad Beef.

William Wagner, for six months artificer of Company B, Tenth United States infantry, stationed in the city of Havana, was in the city yesterday, arriving in the morning and returning to Pittsburg at 4:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wagner was seen during the afternoon and in speaking of the regiment and its work in Havana said: "A soldier's life in Cuba at present is one that is hard to describe. The regiment in which I was a member has been doing police and guard duty in Havana for several months. I was honorably discharged from the service the first of the month," and after showing the papers to a reporter continued, "a soldier's life while doing police duty is a dangerous one. The streets are very narrow, and the main street of Havana is a dandy, 40 feet wide. The sidewalks being narrow, about a yard or so wide, the soldier is oftentimes assaulted by a Cuban hid in windows. These windows are barred, and a knife can be stuck in a passing policeman at any time and no one would know who did it. The Cubans are a bad set of people while the educated Spaniard will treat you with the greatest of courtesy at any and all times. While I was with the regiment we had plenty of embalmed beef, and should I return to the city which I expect to within a short time, I will bring a can of it with me."

THE MIKADO

Presented at the Grand Opera House Last Evening.

"The Mikado" last evening was presented at the Grand for the benefit of the public library, and the performance was undoubtedly one of the best home talent productions ever given here, and the company was far superior to some of the professional opera companies that have appeared in the city.

The attendance was not large, but that did not prevent every member of the cast from doing their utmost to please the audience, and there was not a person present that was not more than satisfied. George F. Knowles as Koko again demonstrated to the East Liverpool public that he is an artist of exceptional ability while Walter Thompson as Nanki-Poo, has a beautiful tenor voice, and was heartily encored. Misses Luthringer, Hamil and McKinney, as Yum Yum, Pitti Sing and Peep Bo, Miss Parke as Katiska, Ed Mackintosh as Poo Bah, Ralph Woods as Pish Tush, George Eardley as Nee Ban and Robert Foutts as the Mikado, were especially good.

The performance will be repeated this evening and should be given a packed house, as it is worth more than the price of admission, and the cause is a worthy one.

The finance committee held an adjourned meeting last evening and completed the work of making a tax levy for the city. The different funds are to be pledged to as follows:

General fund, 2 mills; poor, .2 mills; police, .9; light, 2.7; road, 2; fire, .4; Commerce street, .3; Broadway, .5; city building, 1.1; water works redemption bonds, .4; water works bonds, 1.5; total, 12.8. The committee will report in full at the meeting of council next Monday night.

The Ball Club.

Councilman Pugh is today building a fence around the new ball ground in the West End. The management hope to have the grounds ready by Decoration day, when they hope to call a game between Wellsville and the G. L. Holidays, of Pittsburg.

A New Industry.

The building for the new creamery at Yellow Creek is almost completed and the machinery for the same arrived yesterday. About 35 cows have already been secured. The managers hope to have the creamery started in full in about 10 days.

MINNIE O'NEAL

On Trial at Lisbon today--A Wellsville Divorce Application.

LISBON, May 19.--[Special]--The case of Ohio versus Minnie O'Neal, of East Liverpool, charged with shooting at Alexander Dodds with intent to kill is being heard today.

John Graham, of Wellsville, asks a divorce from Annie M. Graham. The grounds are impotency, extreme cruelty and habitual drunkenness. The parties were married in New York April 17, 1898.

Jacob Seitz, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to two charges of selling liquor to a person in the habit of getting intoxicated, and was fined $50 and costs and $25 and costs in the other.

The following transfers are recorded: Wm. E. Hutchinson to Geo. W. Robertson, part of lot 2001, East Liverpool, $2,500; Elizabeth A. Wise to Wm. M. Calhoun, 32 acres in Liverpool township, $5,000; George Firth to John L. Thompson, lot 1,930, East Liverpool, $2,655.

ANNIVERSARY.

Services of the Mission League Were Held Last Evening.

The ninth anniversary of the mission league of St. John's Evangelical church was observed last evening. The services were opened with devotional exercises, followed by vespers. Reverend Leinpike, of Rochester, read the scripture lesson, while the sermon on mission work was delivered by Rev. J. Whittaker, of Rochester. The services were well attended and were very interesting, and at this church on Sunday evening a Whitsuntide or Pentecostal service will be observed. A special program for this service has been arranged.

RAPID RISE.

The River Reached a Twenty-Two Foot Stage at Noon and Will Go Higher.

The river is rising rapidly and the marks at the foot of Market street may reach 25 feet by midnight if the stream continues to rise as fast as it did at noon today. At 1 o'clock today the marks showed 20 feet and rising.

As usual some damage was caused the shanty boats about this city. The Mountain State, back of the passenger depot, is under water and is damaged to the extent of $50. Several other small boat houses are under water, but the damage in each instance is comparatively slight.

About 40,000,000 bushels of coal will get away on the present rise, nearly all of it being destined to Louisville.

Many of the wickets at Davis island dam are out of repair, and some of them will have to be replaced with new ones. The high water has stopped the work for the time being.

The James Moren was the first to go south and passed down about 7 o'clock, and had several barges of iron in tow, with a large amount of coal.

The Queen City passed up at 7:45 this morning and ran very slow under the bridge on account of the high water. About two feet of space remained between the top of the stacks and the bridge. The Greenwood will be down tonight, and the Ben Hur went south last evening.

Passed up--Mount Clare, Ed Roberts, Sam Brown and Adelle.

CARRAHER GUILTY.

A Motion For a New Trial Is Likely to Be Made.

LISBON, May 19.--[Special]--In the case of Ohio versus Charles Carraher after being out seven hours the jury brought in a verdict of assault, with intent to rape. The general opinion around here was that the state didn't have a very strong case. There will likely be a motion for a new trial. The assault was alleged to have been committed on 9-year-old Katie Flannery at Salem. Carraher is from East Liverpool.

No arrests were made during the night, and the only person in jail is William Buchheit, in default of payment of his fine, but it is thought he will be released by tomorrow.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION

May Cause Some Trouble to the City.

A FURNACE MUST BE BUILT

Congress Has Passed an Act Prohibiting the Dumping of Garbage in the River, and a Heavy Penalty Is Attached--The Matter Will Be Presented to Council.

The garbage question was thoroughly discussed last evening at the meeting of the board of health.

Mayor Bough stated that he had received an intimation that somebody along the Ohio river was going to get into serious trouble if the dumping of garbage in the river was not stopped, and he didn't think the city had any money to pay out in fines.

Mr. Haines stated that he had found out that there was nothing in the story that a man had erected a furnace in Beaver Falls in order to get a franchise. Clerk Burner stated that he had been in Beaver Falls, and said a franchise had been granted A. R. Leyda, but when the time arrived to build the furnace he had failed to put up a bond, and the matter fell through.

Mayor Bough said the board was face to face with a serious question and he feared an attack from some source. Mr. Kerr told of the numerous letters he had received and estimated that a furnace for the city would cost $14,000. Clerk Burner said it oughtn't to cost over $7,500, while Doctor Hutchison said the Youngstown furnace only cost $6,000.

Mr. Windram said a garbage furnace was a wilful waste and the garbage was worth thousands of dollars. He said he had visited the city of Leicester, Eng., and that city made $25,000 a year out of the garbage. He was in favor of a furnace but thought the city should own it.

Mr. Haines thought it was time the board asked council for an appropriation as a furnace would have to be built.

Doctor Ogden said he had noticed in a Pittsburg paper where parties below here had written the war department asking about the matter.

Upon motion of Mr. Nellis the president of the board was appointed to appear before council and explain the matter to them.

Tanyard run was again discussed and the board finally proposed a motion declaring the run a nuisance, and that council be required to cover the run immediately.

A vote of thanks was tendered the Wellsville board of health, and the party went to an uptown restaurant where they partook of refreshments at the expense of Mayor Bough.

READY TO BUILD

The Proposed Railroad Between This Place and Lisbon.

The promoters of the Liverpool and Lisbon railroad are now ready to advertise for bids for the construction of the road from West Point to Lisbon. A representative of the company was seen this morning and said that the only thing delaying the work was the waiting to see if the work of the solicitors who are now soliciting purchasers of the traffic certificates is successful. "So far everything has been in our favor, and I firmly believe the road will be built this year."

ROAD WAS CLEARED.

The Tracks at Merrill Station Now in Good Shape.

The work of clearing the tracks at Merrill of the slide which occurred Wednesday night was completed this morning. The steam shovel was used to advantage, and as a result some quick work was done. The tracks were straightened yesterday afternoon, and the pile driver will be sent to the place of the accident to strengthen the south bank of the road. The loss to the company was in the neighborhood of $500.

WAS A POLICEMAN

In the City of Havana For Six Months.

REGULAR'S OPINION OF THE CITY

One's Life Is In Constant Danger In the Hands of the Cubans, While the Spaniards Act Like Gentlemen--A Taste of Bad Beef.

William Wagner, for six months artificer of Company B, Tenth United States infantry, stationed in the city of Havana, was in the city yesterday, arriving in the morning and returning to Pittsburg at 4:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wagner was seen during the afternoon and in speaking of the regiment and its work in Havana said: "A soldier's life in Cuba at present is one that is hard to describe. The regiment in which I was a member has been doing police and guard duty in Havana for several months. I was honorably discharged from the service the first of the month," and after showing the papers to a reporter continued, "a soldier's life while doing police duty is a dangerous one. The streets are very narrow, and the main street of Havana is a dandy, 40 feet wide. The sidewalks being narrow, about a yard or so wide, the soldier is oftentimes assaulted by a Cuban hid in windows. These windows are barred, and a knife can be stuck in a passing policeman at any time and no one would know who did it. The Cubans are a bad set of people while the educated Spaniard will treat you with the greatest of courtesy at any and all times. While I was with the regiment we had plenty of embalmed beef, and should I return to the city which I expect to within a short time, I will bring a can of it with me."

THE MIKADO

Presented at the Grand Opera House Last Evening.

"The Mikado" last evening was presented at the Grand for the benefit of the public library, and the performance was undoubtedly one of the best home talent productions ever given here, and the company was far superior to some of the professional opera companies that have appeared in the city.

The attendance was not large, but that did not prevent every member of the cast from doing their utmost to please the audience, and there was not a person present that was not more than satisfied. George F. Knowles as Koko again demonstrated to the East Liverpool public that he is an artist of exceptional ability while Walter Thompson as Nanki-Poo, has a beautiful tenor voice, and was heartily encored. Misses Luthringer, Hamil and McKinney, as Yum Yum, Pitti Sing and Peep Bo, Miss Parke as Katiska, Ed Mackintosh as Poo Bah, Ralph Woods as Pish Tush, George Eardley as Nee Ban and Robert Founts as the Mikado, were especially good.

The performance will be repeated this evening and should be given a packed house, as it is worth more than the price of admission, and the cause is a worthy one.

The River Reached a Twenty-Two Foot Stage at Noon and Will Go Higher.

The river is rising rapidly and the marks at the foot of Market street may reach 25 feet by midnight if the stream continues to rise as fast as it did at noon today. At 1 o'clock today the marks showed 20 feet and rising.

As usual some damage was caused the shanty boats about this city. The Mountain State, back of the passenger depot, is under water and is damaged to the extent of $50. Several other small boat houses are under water, but the damage in each instance is comparatively slight.

About 40,000,000 bushels of coal will get away on the present rise, nearly all of it being destined to Louisville.

Many of the wickets at Davis island dam are out of repair, and some of them will have to be replaced with new ones. The high water has stopped the work for the time being.

The James Moren was the first to go south and passed down about 7 o'clock, and had several barges of iron in tow, with a large amount of coal.

The Queen City passed up at 7:45 this morning and ran very slow under the bridge on account of the high water. About two feet of space remained between the top of the stacks and the bridge. The Greenwood will be down tonight, and the Ben Hur went south last evening.

Many of the wickets at Davis island dam are out of repair, and some of them will have to be replaced with new ones. The high water has stopped the work for the time being.

The James Moren was the first to go south and passed down about 7 o'clock, and had several barges of iron in tow, with a large amount of coal.

The Queen City passed up at 7:45 this morning and ran very slow under the bridge on account of the high water. About two feet of space remained between the top of the stacks and the bridge. The Greenwood will be down tonight, and the Ben Hur went south last evening.

Passed up--Mount Clare, Ed Roberts, Sam Brown and Adelle.

CARRAHER GUILTY.

A Motion For a New Trial Is Likely to Be Made.

LISBON, May 19.—[Special]—In the case of Ohio versus Charles Carraher after being out seven hours the jury brought in a verdict of assault, with intent to rape. The general opinion around here was that the state didn't have a very strong case. There will likely be a motion for a new trial. The assault was alleged to have been committed on 9-year-old Katie Flannery at Salem. Carraher is from East Liverpool.

A GREAT PRAIRIE LAKE.

Irrigation on a New Plan to Be Tried in Kansas.

TRIAL AT CHEYENNE BOTTOMS.

Largest Artificial Lake Ready to Be Filled by the Late Spring Rise of the Arkansas—Fourteen Miles Long and Six Wide—Importance of the Test.

The wish of the people of the prairies for a great lake is ready for realization when the Arkansas river furnishes the supply of water at its late spring rise, says the New York Sun. The largest irrigation and improvement undertaking in the Mississippi valley has been completed, and if it proves successful there are hopes for climatic changes that will be of even more value than the land watering to be accomplished. A great basin has been made ready for the waters that come down from the mountains in the erratic Arkansas, and when filled the lake will support sail vessels where the prairie schooner has been traveling and will afford a great gathering place for waterfowl in their semiannual migrations.

For years the farmers along the course of the upper Arkansas have been using the water of the stream for irrigation. Indeed they have used it again and again, for the water seeped back to the underflow and was never kept from the river long at a time. So many were the users of the water that the stream is drained before it reaches the farms in central and southern Kansas. The people of Kansas threaten to bring suit against those of Colorado to secure a share of the water, but the outcome of such a plan is problematical. At seasons of the year when the sun has melted the snows on the mountains the broad bed of the river, across which a woman might walk at other times without wetting the soles of her feet, becomes the course of a torrent. Studying the configuration of the land along the river in its lower course, the engineers found that there might be built a ditch to carry off the surplus water and utilize it in benefiting the people of the eastern part of the state.

They found back of the foothills to the north of Great Bend, Kan., a peculiar formation that made possible a vast lake—a tract of land 14 miles long, from four to six miles wide, with every foot of it from 3 to 60 feet below the rim of hills that completely surrounds it. It is the bed of an ancient lake, and on its surface have grown for hundreds of years the grasses of prairie sloughs.

Cheyenne bottoms it is called, and there is a story that once it was the gathering place of the Cheyennes of the territory. Here they lighted their council fires and practiced their incantations. Marks of their occupation were common when the first settlers came. Later it was the famous rabbit chasing ground of the American Coursing association, which included prominent citizens and lovers of the chase in the eastern cities. They came to the fall meetings in special cars and brought valets to the prairies, causing much wonderment among the dwellers on the plain. Once a real prince was among those who watched the sleek hounds chase the fleet jack rabbits through the waving grass. He was one of the cattle kings of Wyoming and brought a small retinue of friends and servants with him. But courting meets became too common, and the annual meetings here were given up. Since then it has been a grazing ground.

One day several years ago a dark cloud came up in the northwest and met another from the south directly over the bottoms. There was a tremendous rainfall, a cloudburst, and the bottoms were covered to a depth of six feet. For two years the water was visible, showing that the bed was nearly waterproof. Then the plan of making it into a lake took form, and at last work was begun. Now it is completed.

From the river has been dug a ditch with a capacity of 300 feet, to be enlarged to 1,200 feet later, which leads from the river beds to an opening made through the hills and is to pour its contents into the vast depression. The ditch has been running a considerable stream much of the spring, and when the high water comes it is expected that it will easily fill the old lake bottom and make an artificial body of water the largest of the kind in the nation and the largest of any kind between Chicago and Salt Lake. Around the shore is to be a gravel road, if the gravel can be secured. Trees are to be planted and, with the boats on the river, it is believed that a delightful resort for summer days on the plains, when hot winds hold sway, will be established.

Along with the artistic advantages there are to be reaped other profits. The waters of ditch and lake are to be utilized by the farmers for irrigation and miles of laterals have already been constructed, so that nearly half of the county will be watered from this tributary of the Arkansas.

The problem of water supply is the most perplexing before the western people, and there have been many plans proposed that were intended to give relief. The rivers that flow from the hills and then, lagged and aimless, saunter across the prairies cannot furnish water to all who wish to secure their help. Too much water is wasted. At times the stream is bank full or is flooding all the surrounding country. Then there is drought, and dust flies from the bed of the stream. In the opinion of many the true solution of the question is by means of reservoirs which shall hold the surplus and give it out slowly when it is needed. To do this is the object of the Cheyenne Bottoms lake, and the experiment is on such a large scale that it promises to be an authoritative test of the plan. It will result in forming the largest artificial lake in the nation.

TO BRING BACK VOLUNTEERS

Ships Making Ready—Expected to Be on the Way Home From Philippines
Within Two Months.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—War department officials expected that within two months the Pacific transport fleet would be on its way home from Manila with the last of the volunteer regiments. The entire Pacific fleet was being overhauled and provisioned for the voyage to Manila and return. There will be no delay in the sailing of the ships. Of the fleet of transports in the Pacific the Sherman, Grant and Sheridan are under orders for Manila, and will carry regular troops to take the place of the volunteers.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the heads of the staff bureaus of the department regarding arrangements for the return of the volunteers. Nearly every state has requested that the regiments be returned to the states whence they came, as the people want to see them as organizations instead of as individuals. If these be decided upon while awaiting muster out they will be held in camp either at San Francisco or at state camps where these exist.

It was asserted that the soldiers preferred to be mustered out at San Francisco, as they then will receive travel pay to their homes and can make transportation rates that will give them some extra money. The government, however, has the option of transporting them to the place where it received them and may decide to follow that plan if, upon further investigation, it should be deemed feasible.

ADJOURNS TODAY TO MAY 31.

Mazet Committee Developed the Growth of the Freedman Surety Company.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Mazet investigating committee is expected to adjourn today until May 31.

The committee spent the greater part of Thursday's session in an attempt to show the respective bonding interests of city employees held by the so-called Freedman and the so-called Platt Surety company. Counsel Moss, for the committee, after an elaborate examination into this matter, said that the significant feature of what has been shown was the growth of the Freedman company, the youngest of all the bonding companies, during the past year or two in the bonding of city officials.

Police Commissioners Hess and Abell were on the stand for a short time. Commissioner Hess agreed with Counsel Moss in an expression of an opinion that facts of a suspicious nature had been presented before the committee. Commissioner Abell stated that he had accepted the position of commissioner with a view to first performing his duty and, second, to protecting the Republican members of the police force.

He, too, agreed that there was considerable crime in the city of New York, but he failed to furnish any significant details to aid the committee. Sheriff Dunn was on the stand for a brief period, but his counsel was permitted to take his place and to explain the bonding of officers in the sheriff's department by the Freedman company.

STEAMER PUTS BACK DUE TO FIRE.

Rev. Dr. Briggs and Col. Thomas Keenan
Among the Passengers.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The North German Lloyd steamship Barbarossa, which sailed for Southampton and Bremen, was discovered on fire while she was passing Sandy Hook and put back to port. The fire was in the cargo in the forward hold. The Barbarossa fought the fire with steam and water, and with the aid of wrecking tugs and fireboats drowned it out about two hours later while lying at quarantine.

The vessel, while on her way up the river after the fire, hit the French liner La Bretagne, lying at her pier in North river, shoving the Bretagne's bow through two ice barges, the Richard Foster and the Leroy, sinking them. No one was injured.

She may resume her voyage today. Among the 336 cabin passengers on board were Dr. Charles A. Briggs and family and Colonel Thomas Keenan of Pittsburgh, president of the League of American Wheelmen.

Senator Jones Was Much Improved.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Letters received in this city indicated that Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, had a pleasant voyage across the Atlantic and that his health was much improved. The senator himself said he had not felt better at any time during the past ten years. It is likely that Senator Jones and party will sojourn on the Isle of Wight for several weeks.

Murray May Be Sentenced Tomorrow.

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—The taking of testimony, to fix the degree of crime, of Dr. Charles Murray of Sewickley, who pleaded guilty to killing his father's butler, was finished. It is believed he will be sentenced tomorrow.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympatizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union
Label goods, in preference to all others.
And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?
The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card ask for it when making your purchases.

Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat
before it leaves the workman's hands.
If a dealer takes a label from one hat
and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

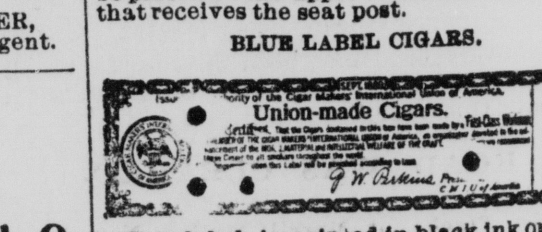

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants

BICYCLE LABEL

"Do unto others

will endorse the

buying and riding

colors are as fol-

shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold.

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box.
Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Con-

wholesome conditions,
and in clean and healthy bakeries. Fol-

Test.

The wish of the people of the prairies for a great lake is ready for realization when the Arkansas river furnishes the supply of water at its late spring rise, says the New York Sun. The largest irrigation and improvement undertaking in the Mississippi valley has been completed, and if it proves successful there are hopes for climatic changes that will be of even more value than the land watering to be accomplished. A great basin has been made ready for the waters that come down from the mountains in the erratic Arkansas, and when filled the lake will support sail vessels where the prairie schooner has been traveling and will afford a great gathering place for waterfowl in their semiannual migrations.

For years the farmers along the course of the upper Arkansas have been using the water of the stream for irrigation. Indeed they have used it again and again, for the water seeped back to the underflow and was never kept from the river long at a time. So many were the users of the water that the stream is drained before it reaches the farms in central and southern Kansas. The people of Kansas threaten to bring suit against those of Colorado to secure a share of the water, but the outcome of such a plan is problematical. At seasons of the year when the sun has melted the snows on the mountains the broad bed of the river, across which a woman might walk at other times without wetting the soles of her feet, becomes the course of a torrent. Studying the configuration of the land along the river in its lower course, the engineers found that there might be built a ditch to carry off the surplus water and utilize it in benefiting the people of the eastern part of the state.

They found back of the foothills to the north of Great Bend, Kan., a peculiar formation that made possible a vast lake—a tract of land 14 miles long, from four to six miles wide, with every foot of it from 3 to 60 feet below the rim of hills that completely surrounds it. It is the bed of an ancient lake, and on its surface have grown for hundreds of years the grasses of prairie sloughs.

Cheyenne bottoms it is called, and there is a story that once it was the gathering place of the Cheyennes of the territory. Here they lighted their council fires and practiced their incantations. Marks of their occupation were common when the first settlers came. Later it was the famous rabbit chasing ground of the American Coursing association, which included prominent citizens and lovers of the chase in the eastern cities. They came to the fall meetings in special cars and brought valets to the prairies, causing much wonderment among the dwellers on the plain. Once a real prince was among those who watched the sleek hounds chase the fleet jack rabbits through the waving grass. He was one of the cattle kings of Wyoming and brought a small retinue of friends and servants with him. But courting meets became too common, and the annual meetings here were given up. Since then it has been a grazing ground.

One day several years ago a dark cloud came up in the northwest and met another from the south directly over the bottoms. There was a tremendous rainfall, a cloudburst, and the bottoms were covered to a depth of six feet. For two years the water was visible, showing that the bed was nearly waterproof. Then the plan of making it into a lake took form, and at last work was begun. Now it is completed.

From the river has been dug a ditch with a capacity of 300 feet, to be enlarged to 1,200 feet later, which leads from the river beds to an opening made through the hills and is to pour its contents into the vast depression. The ditch has been running a considerable stream much of the spring, and when the high water comes it is expected that it will easily fill the old lake bottom and make an artificial body of water the largest of the kind in the nation and the largest of any kind between Chicago and Salt Lake. Around the shore is to be a gravel road, if the gravel can be secured. Trees are to be planted and, with the boats on the river, it is believed that a delightful resort for summer days on the plains, when hot winds hold sway, will be established. Along with the artistic advantages there are to be reaped other profits. The waters of ditch and lake are to be utilized by the farmers for irrigation and miles of laterals have already been constructed, so that nearly half of the county will be watered from this tributary of the Arkansas.

The problem of water supply is the most perplexing before the western people, and there have been many plans proposed that were intended to give relief. The rivers that flow from the hills and then, laggard and aimless, saunter across the prairies cannot furnish water to all who wish to secure their help. Too much water is wasted. At times the stream is bank full or is flooding all the surrounding country. Then there is drought, and dust flies from the bed of the stream. In the opinion of many the true solution of the question is by means of reservoirs which shall hold the surplus and give it out slowly when it is needed. To do this is the object of the Cheyenne Bottoms lake, and the experiment is on such a large scale that it promises to be an authoritative test of the plan. It will result in forming the largest artificial lake in the nation.

TO BRING BACK VOLUNTEERS

Ships Making Ready—Expected to Be on
the Way Home From Philippines
Within Two Months.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—War department officials expected that within two months the Pacific transport fleet would be on its way home from Manila with the last of the volunteer regiments. The entire Pacific fleet was being overhauled and provisioned for the voyage to Manila and return. There will be no delay in the sailing of the ships. Of the fleet of transports in the Pacific the Sherman, Grant and Sheridan are under orders for Manila, and will carry regular troops to take the place of the volunteers.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the heads of the staff bureaus of the department regarding arrangements for the return of the volunteers. Nearly every state has requested that the regiments be returned to the states whence they came, as the people want to see them as organizations instead of as individuals. If these be decided upon while awaiting muster out they will be held in camp either at San Francisco or at state camps where these exist.

It was asserted that the soldiers preferred to be mustered out at San Francisco, as they then will receive travel pay to their homes and can make transportation rates that will give them some extra money. The government, however, has the option of transporting them to the place where it received them and may decide to follow that plan if, upon further investigation, it should be deemed feasible.

ADJOURNS TODAY TO MAY 31.

Mazet Committee Developed the Growth of the Freedman Surety Company.
Crime in New York.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Mazet investigating committee is expected to adjourn today until May 31.

The committee spent the greater part of Thursday's session in an attempt to show the respective bonding interests of city employees held by the so-called Freedman and the so-called Platt Surety company. Counsel Moss, for the committee, after an elaborate examination into this matter, said that the significant feature of what has been shown was the growth of the Freedman company, the youngest of all the bonding companies, during the past year or two in the bonding of city officials.

Police Commissioners Hess and Abell were on the stand for a short time. Commissioner Hess agreed with Counsel Moss in an expression of an opinion that facts of a suspicious nature had been presented before the committee. Commissioner Abell stated that he had accepted the position of commissioner with a view to first performing his duty and, second, to protecting the Republican members of the police force.

He, too, agreed that there was considerable crime in the city of New York, but he failed to furnish any significant details to aid the committee.

Sheriff Dunn was on the stand for a brief period, but his counsel was permitted to take his place and to explain the bonding of officers in the sheriff's department by the Freedman company.

STEAMER PUTS BACK DUE TO FIRE.

Rev. Dr. Briggs and Col. Thomas Keenan
Among the Passengers.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The North German Lloyd steamship Barbarossa, which sailed for Southampton and Bremen, was discovered on fire while she was passing Sandy Hook and put back to port. The fire was in the cargo in the forward hold. The Barbarossa fought the fire with steam and water, and with the aid of wrecking tugs and fireboats drowned it out about two hours later while lying at quarantine.

The vessel, while on her way up the river after the fire, hit the French liner La Bretagne, lying at her pier in North river, showing the Bretagne's bow through two ice barges, the Richard Foster and the Leroy, sinking them. No one was injured.

She may resume her voyage today. Among the 336 cabin passengers on board were Dr. Charles A. Briggs and family and Colonel Thomas Keenan of Pittsburgh, president of the League of American Wheelmen.

Senator Jones Was Much Improved.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Letters received in this city indicated that Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, had a pleasant voyage across the Atlantic and that his health was much improved. The senator himself said he had not felt better at any time during the past ten years. It is likely that Senator Jones and party will sojourn on the Isle of Wight for several weeks.

Murray May Be Sentenced Tomorrow.

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—The taking of testimony, to fix the degree of crime, of Dr. Charles Murray of Sewickley, who pleaded guilty to killing his father's butler, was finished. It is believed he will be sentenced tomorrow.

A GREAT PRAIRIE LAKE.

Irrigation on a New Plan to Be Tried In Kansas.

TRIAL AT CHEYENNE BOTTOMS.

Largest Artificial Lake Ready to Be

The wish of the people of the prairies for a great lake is ready for realization when the Arkansas river furnishes the supply of water at its late spring rise, says the New York Sun. SIGNAL CORPS' WORK.

Effective Service In the Operations About Manila.

BRAVE OFFICERS AND MEN PRAISED

From the Outbreak of Hostilities It Was Possible For the Different Commanders to Transmit and Receive Instructions—Peculiar Effect of Battle Action on the Sick.

General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has received from Lieutenant Colonel R. E. Thompson, chief signal officer at Manila, a report under date of March 4 of the operations of the signal corps in the campaign against the Filipino insurgents, from the outbreak of hostilities down to the time the report was made. The report says:

"As previously indicated, the situation at the beginning of February was practically that of hostile armies in contact; our men chafing at the restraint; the insurgents believing us held back by fear alone—each eager to get at the other. In anticipation of trouble, a company of signalmen was assigned to each division of the army, the commanding officer of the First company reporting to General Anderson with charge of lines south of the Pasig and with instructions to maintain communications as troops advanced; the Eighteenth company reporting to General MacArthur, with similar orders for the maintenance of communications north of the river.

"Several of our outposts, notably those of the Nebraska, Montana, Pennsylvania and Colorado regiments, had been pushed so far to the front as to suggest trouble to wires in case of an attack. A few rockets were therefore placed at each and a code prearranged. The positions assigned the various commands in case of action were such as to encompass the city with a line of battle, the flanks of which rested on the bay. At each flank a flag station was established for communication with the ships of the navy, anchored offshore in position to enfilade an attacking enemy.

"Our relations with the Filipinos were so strained and their hostility so apparent that on several occasions the call to arms had been sounded, and at these times the rapid assembling of the army in position had the practical effect of developing shortcomings and perfecting preparations, so that when the outbreak actually occurred everything moved without friction and without mishap, save to the telegraph. Orders had been issued, enjoining upon guards and patrols that tampering with telegraph lines be not permitted. In the darkness of the night, however, the long stretches advanced to outposts—especially those through thickly settled native districts—were at the mercy of the hostile element, despite the most constant watchfulness, and as soon as firing began the exterior lines north of the Pasig went down at once. It was most comforting, however, to see rockets almost immediately announcing disrupted circuit, attack and ability to withstand, from each of the threatened positions.

"On the night of the 4th, at about 8:30 o'clock, rifle shots were heard from the direction of Santa Mesa, a suburb eastward of the town held by the First Nebraska. The firing soon grew to such proportions as to leave no doubt of its meaning, and shortly dispatches came in stating that the affair began by our patrol halting an insurgent, who refused to obey; that a shot was then fired at him, but without returning the shot he went back to his blockhouse, from which point the insurgent guard fired at random in the direction of our patrol, who returned the fire. A number of scattering shots on both sides then followed. The Nebraskans at once turned out, and it was not long before the action became general.

"On the 5th our troops took the initiative and, advancing in all directions, ran the battle line flush with the farthest outpost and in many instances passing beyond the outer telegraph station, so that it became necessary to carry forward the wires. This part of the work was executed with celerity, and at all times after the first disheartening breakdown it was possible for the different commanders to transmit and receive instructions with speed and certainty, and the increase in the use of the wire due to field operations may be somewhat judged from the fact that the number of messages handled on the day preceding the battle was 515 and on Feb. 5 (the day of the action) was 1,120, since which time the use of the telegraph has steadily increased, today showing the messages handled to be 1,200, with a total of 30,534 for the month, and so great a dependence has come to be placed on this method of communication that instructions have been issued permitting only such as have a military bearing to be handled on occasions when the rush is greatest.

"It is questioned if an opportunity ever offered where the telegraph could be more effectively used by an army than in the present case. Our operations thus far have been entirely on interior lines, the movement of troops simply entailing the rapid running forward of light lines. In the case of the Caloocan fight (an occasion on which an advance required the laying of considerable wire) a telegraph office set up at the extreme front was ready within a few minutes after the forward movement had ceased, and the division commander announced his success and the results almost immediately after their achievement.

"During the burning of the northern part of the town and the invasion of Tondo on the 23d, a field officer was cut in the heart of the blazing district almost as soon as operations for expelling the insurgents had become effective. It is possible to reach any command, depot, outpost or individual of the army from 29 different telegraph offices, the only delay being consequent on the great volume of business and the necessity for precedence in order of importance. The greatest credit is due the signal officers and men, who have made this extensive telegraph system so perfect that, in case of engagements at any part of the long line of battle, commanders co-operate with certainty, surgeons receive prompt information and have their ambulance almost immediately on the ground, and the supply departments send their transportation, ammunition, rations, etc., where required, without the least delay.

"To Captain Russel is due the greatest credit for the operations on the north, the front of the line of battle of which he was to keep himself and commanders informed being something over ten miles in length. It is not unlikely that personally he finds most satisfaction in the rough, dangerous work performed by himself, officers and men under the heavy fire of the 5th or during the advance on Caloocan, but it is probable that the commander whose division he served would award equal credit for the success of his service with the fleet, with the parties advancing to capture the waterworks, and for his general efficiency in anticipating needs and improvising means under the trying conditions of lack of men and suitable material for so great a field of operations. So also with Lieutenant Charles E. Kilbourne, Jr., in charge of communications for Anderson's division. To his credit falls the performance of one of the most conspicuous and telling acts of that hot day, the 5th, when, under fire at short range of a body of insurgents ensconced in Paco church, and in the line of fire of our own infantry, he personally effected the repair of an important wire.

"Lieutenant F. H. Bailey gave ample evidence of thoroughness and reliability in his extensive line work from Santa Mesa to the Deposito, and thence to the pumping station, and in fearlessly connecting up blockhouses and advance points. Lieutenant Charles H. Gordon's excellent work on the shore in maintaining communication with the navy, though cut off with his party and under fire off and on for 36 hours, is another instance of devotion to duty and its intelligent performance.

"The peculiar effect of battle action on the sick is a remarkable feature of the outbreak. Notwithstanding the large number of wounded added to the list, the number of patients remaining in hospital at the end of the first day's fighting was less than at the beginning. Four of the signal officers had long been prostrated by typhoid fever, and their convalescence had been exasperatingly slow. The strongest of these, Lieutenant A. J. Rudd, reported for duty at once, but was not permitted immediately to take the field, though intrusted with charge of the central station. A chance to participate in the capture of Caloocan, however, set him up and made a well man of him immediately, and, the opportunity being given, he ran the wire to the front over the open line of railway under continuous fire from start to finish, and so beneficial has been the result of intense action that he has been continuously on duty ever since, most of the time at the immediate front.

"Captain E. A. McKenna, convalescing at the Corregidor hospital, heard of the fighting at Manila and came at once and, though still apparently unfit for duty, took command of his company on the 11th and has added to his already exceedingly bright record by the most efficient service in skirmishes, engagements and advances that have since fallen to the share of the First division. He, too, has been made well. Though it seemed hardly prudent that Captain Philip J. Perkins should be allowed to leave the hospital so soon, he has not been content until assigned duties within his strength and is now in the midst of organizing and equipping the new signal company recently authorized since the tremendous expansion of business has developed the inadequacy of the present force.

"The following have rendered especially conspicuous service: Sergeant Thomas A. McKinstry, Corporals William F. Schoeneman and Fred Shalda, and first class Private Tracy E. Inman, in repairing lines under heavy fire; Sergeant Daniel Hopkins for similar work through a burning village; Corporal Fred Gellerman, in carrying wounded from the field under fire; Sergeants Emmet R. Jones and William W. Houser, Corporal Fritz M. Biebel and first class Private Allen B. Forman, in maintaining signals with the navy from Fort Malate while compelled to stand on the ramparts under fire, Houser and Biebel also marking the advance of the line with flags during a charge; Sergeants Paul O. Paulson, David T. Flannery and Arthur A. Alexander and Private Allen Kirby, for excellence of their service in signaling under fire at Caloocan; Sergeant Augustus N. Maxliner and first class Privates John K. Weir and Clarence J. Prendergast, for long and trying service under fire at outposts, and first class Private Herschel B. Young, for carrying an important dispatch to blockhouse in face of a heavy fire.

"The order for the Iloilo command to make a landing was received the morning of the 11th. Information of the intention and an ultimatum were sent to the insurgents at 3:30 p. m., giving them time to withdraw or surrender. On the morning of the 12th, instead of withdrawing as expected, they began throwing up intrenchments. A couple of warning shots from the Petrel brought a return fire, to which the Petrel and Boston replied, directing everything against the fort. Immediately the town was set afire by the insurgents, and the flames spread rapidly over the south end. The detachment under Captain Tilly aboard the Newport then, in accordance with instructions, directed the disembarking of troops from the Arizona and St. Paul by signals and also worked with the cruiser Boston, through which a tow of boats, containing part of the Tennessee regiment, was landed. A signal station was soon established within the fort, opening up communication with the ships and transports and the telegraph put in operation out to the line of the burning buildings. The town was soon cleared of insurgents, and the troops advanced to the Jaro and Molo bridges.

"In the construction of telegraph lines through the burning district the men suffered greatly from the smoke and heat and occasionally received a scattering fire. The signal party sent with the force to capture Jaro worked in the midst of a sharp action. Later the office of the captain of the port was put into communication with the navy. The provost marshal's office, Iloilo, the Eighteenth infantry at Jaro, General Miller's headquarters at the junction of Jaro and Molo roads, and the headquarters of the Tennessee regiment at Molo bridge were in telegraphic communication, the offices being operated day and night in consequence of the unsettled condition.

"A most interesting series of photographs has been taken during action. The work has been executed under the personal supervision of Captain George E. Lawrence, many of the pictures representing actual battle scenes, to secure which has necessitated the exposure of Lawrence to sharp fire repeatedly. The prints and original negatives are already sent to Washington.

"Just before the outbreak it had become evident that the Cavite cable would not last much longer. The Manila reach, consisting of light insulated wire, had become so weak that just after the opening of hostilities, while buoying the joint, it gave way. The old cable was grappled and the new pieces spliced in and laid with such expedition that the interruption of communication with Cavite was hardly noticeable. Much credit is due to Lieutenant Edward E. Kelly for his management of the technical part of the work. The cable is laid sufficiently inshore to avoid the anchorage of heavy craft, but in sufficient depth to insure against probability of interference by insurgents."—New York Sun.

Would Have Done the Same.

Rudyard Kipling undoubtedly got his wit from his maternal grandfather, the Rev. George B. Macdonald, a Wesleyan clergyman. It is related of this bright Macdonald that in the days when he was courting the lady whom he afterwards married the father-in-law to be—an aged Methodist with extremely strict notions in regard to the proprieties—was injudicious enough on one occasion to enter the parlor without giving any warning of his approach. The consequence was that he found the sweethearts occupying a single chair.

Deeply shocked by this spectacle the old man solemnly said: "Mr. Macdonald, when I was courting Mrs. Brown she sat on one side of the room and I on the other."

Macdonald's reply was: "That's what I should have done if I had been courting Mrs. Brown."—Troy Press.

A Heroic Remedy.

Malta's way of treating rheumatism is a trifle heroic, but a generation brought up on mustard plasters and electricity ought not to object to it. Feeding the Fire.

The most powerful engine must stop if the fires are not fed. Man is the most wonderful piece of machinery in the world, yet no matter how strong and well-made his bodily frame may be, if the fire of life within him is not constantly fed his limbs and muscles become powerless and useless.

The reason men become helpless and diseased is because the food they eat, which is the fuel of life, is not properly digested and appropriated by the stomach and nutritive organs. It is not completely transformed into the strength and working power which is to man what steam is to the engine.

That wonderful power-making "Golden Medical Discovery," invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., imbues the human digestive juices and blood-making glands with capacity to extract abundant nourishment from the food. It builds up organic tissue, nerve fiber, hard muscular flesh and working force. It gives a man steam. What it did for Mr. F. S. Hughes, of Junction, Hunterdon Co., N. J., is given in his own words. He writes: "I received your kind letter, and in reply would say that mine was a bad case of kidney and liver trouble, and that six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and four bottles of 'Little Pills' effected a complete cure. It is well known that almost every engineer is troubled more or less with kidney trouble, especially on our fast express trains. I run one hundred and forty-four miles on these trains every day in the week, and have had no return of the trouble since taking the remedies, nearly three years ago."

SIGNAL CORPS' WORK.

Effective Service In the Operations About Manila.

BRAVE OFFICERS AND MEN PRAISED

From the Outbreak of Hostilities It Was Possible For the Different Commanders to Transmit and Receive Instructions—Peculiar Effect of Battle Action on the Sick.

General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has received from Lieutenant Colonel R. E. Thompson, chief signal officer at Manila, a report under date of March 4 of the operations of the signal corps in the campaign against the Filipino insurgents, from the outbreak of hostilities down to the time the report was made. The report says:

"As previously indicated, the situation at the beginning of February was practically that of hostile armies in contact; our men chafing at the restraint; the insurgents believing us held back by fear alone—each eager to get at the other. In anticipation of trouble, a company of signalmen was assigned to each division of the army, the commanding officer of the First company reporting to General Anderson with charge of lines south of the Pasig and with instructions to maintain communications as troops advanced; the Eighteenth company reporting to General MacArthur, with similar orders for the maintenance of communications north of the river.

"Several of our outposts, notably those of the Nebraska, Montana, Pennsylvania and Colorado regiments, had been pushed so far to the front as to suggest trouble to wires in case of an attack. A few rockets were therefore placed at each and a code prearranged. The positions assigned the various commands in case of action were such as to encompass the city with a line of battle, the flanks of which rested on the bay. At each flank a flag station was established for communication with the ships of the navy, anchored offshore in position to enfilade an attacking enemy.

"Our relations with the Filipinos were so strained and their hostility so apparent that on several occasions the call to arms had been sounded, and at these times the rapid assembling of the army in position had the practical effect of developing shortcomings and perfecting preparations, so that when the outbreak actually occurred everything moved without friction and without mishap, save to the telegraph. Orders had been issued, enjoining upon guards and patrols that tampering with telegraph lines be not permitted. In the darkness of the night, however, the long stretches advanced to outposts—especially those through thickly settled native districts—were at the mercy of the hostile element, despite the most constant watchfulness, and as soon as firing began the exterior lines north of the Pasig went down at once. It was most comforting, however, to see rockets almost immediately announcing disrupted circuit, attack and ability to withstand, from each of the threatened positions.

"On the night of the 4th, at about 8:30 o'clock, rifle shots were heard from the direction of Santa Mesa, a suburb eastward of the town held by the First Nebraska. The firing soon grew to such proportions as to leave no doubt of its meaning, and shortly dispatches came in stating that the affair began by our patrol halting an insurgent, who refused to obey; that a shot was then fired at him, but without returning the shot he went back to his blockhouse, from which point the insurgent guard fired at random in the direction of our patrol, who returned the fire. A number of scattering shots on both sides then followed. The Nebraskans at once turned out, and it was not long before the action became general.

"On the 5th our troops took the initiative and, advancing in all directions, ran the battle line flush with the farthest outpost and in many instances passing beyond the outer telegraph station, so that it became necessary to carry forward the wires. This part of the work was executed with celerity, and at all times after the first disheartening breakdown it was possible for the different commanders to transmit and receive instructions with speed and certainty, and the increase in the use of the wire due to field operations may be somewhat judged from the fact that the number of messages handled on the day preceding the battle was 515 and on Feb. 5 (the day of the action) was 1,120, since which time the use of the telegraph has steadily increased, today showing the messages handled to be 1,209, with a total of 30,534 for the month, and so great a dependence has come to be placed on this method of communication that instructions have been issued permitting only such as have a military bearing to be handled on occasions when the rush is greatest.

"It is questioned if an opportunity ever offered where the telegraph could be more effectively used by an army than in the present case. Our operations thus far have been entirely on interior lines, the movement of troops simply entailing the rapid running forward of light lines. In the case of the Calocan fight (an occasion on which an advance required the laying of considerable wire) a telegraph office set up at the extreme front was ready within a few minutes after the forward movement had ceased, and the division commander announced his success and the results almost immediately after their achievement.

"During the burning of the northern part of the town and the invasion of Tondo on the 23d, a field office was cut in the heart of the blazing district almost as soon as operations for expelling the insurgents had become effective. It is possible to reach any command, depot, outpost or individual of the army from 29 different telegraph offices, the only delay being consequent on the great volume of business and the necessity for precedence in order of importance. The greatest credit is due the signal officers and men, who have made this extensive telegraph system so perfect that, in case of engagements at any part of the long line of battle, commanders co-operate with certainty, surgeons receive prompt information and have their ambulance almost immediately on the ground, and the supply departments send their transportation, ammunition, rations, etc., where required, without the least delay.

"To Captain Russell is due the greatest credit for the operations on the north, the front of the line of battle of which he was to keep himself and commanders informed being something over ten miles in length. It is not unlikely that personally he finds most satisfaction in the rough, dangerous work performed by himself, officers and men under the heavy fire of the 5th or during the advance on Calocan, but it is probable that the commander whose division he served would award equal credit for the success of his service with the fleet, with the parties advancing to capture the waterworks, and for his general efficiency in anticipating needs and improvising means under the trying conditions of lack of men and suitable material for so great a field of operations. So also with Lieutenant Charles E. Kilbourne, Jr., in charge of communications for Anderson's division. To his credit falls the performance of one of the most conspicuous and telling acts of that hot day, the 5th, when, under fire at short range of a body of insurgents ensconced in Paco church, and in the line of fire of our own infantry, he personally effected the repair of an important wire.

"Lieutenant F. H. Bailey gave ample evidence of thoroughness and reliability in his extensive line work from Santa Mesa to the Deposito, and thence to the pumping station, and in fearlessly connecting up blockhouses and advance points. Lieutenant Charles H. Gordon's excellent work on the shore in maintaining communication with the navy, though cut off with his party and under fire off and on for 36 hours, is another instance of devotion to duty and its intelligent performance.

"The peculiar effect of battle action on the sick is a remarkable feature of the outbreak. Notwithstanding the large number of wounded added to the list, the number of patients remaining in hospital at the end of the first day's fighting was less than at the beginning. Four of the signal officers had long been prostrated by typhoid fever, and their convalescence had been exasperatingly slow. The strongest of these, Lieutenant A. J. Rudd, reported for duty at once, but was not permitted immediately to take the field, though intrusted with charge of the central station. A chance to participate in the capture of Calocan, however, set him up and made a well man of him immediately, and, the opportunity being given, he ran the wire to the front over the open line of railway under continuous fire from start to finish, and so beneficial has been the result of intense action that he has been continuously on duty ever since, most of the time at the immediate front.

"Captain E. A. McKenna, convalescing at the Corregidor hospital, heard of the fighting at Manila and came at once and, though still apparently unfit for duty, took command of his company on the 11th and has added to his already exceedingly bright record by the most efficient service in skirmishes, engagements and advances that have since fallen to the share of the First division. He, too, has been made well. Though it seemed hardly prudent that Captain Philip J. Perkins should be allowed to leave the hospital so soon, he has not been content until assigned duties within his strength and is now in the midst of organizing and equipping the new signal company recently authorized since the tremendous expansion of business has developed the inadequacy of the present force.

"The following have rendered especially conspicuous service: Sergeant Thomas A. McKinstry, Corporals William F. Schoeneman and Fred Shalda, and first class Private Tracy E. Inman, in repairing lines under heavy fire, and Sergeant Daniel Hopkins for similar work through a burning village; Corporal Fred Gellerman, in carrying wounded from the field under fire; Sergeants Emmet R. Jones and William W. Howser, Corporal Fritz M. Biebel and first class Private Allen B. Forman, in maintaining signals with the navy from Fort Malate while compelled to stand on the ramparts under fire, Howser and Biebel also marking the advance of the line with flags during a charge; Sergeants Paul O. Paulson, David T. Flannery and Arthur A. Alexander and Private Allen Kirby, for excellence of their service in signaling under fire at Calocan; Sergeant Augustus N. Maxliner and first class Privates John K. Weir and Clarence J. Prendergast, for long and trying service under fire at outposts, and first class Private Herschel B. Young, for carrying an important dispatch to blockhouse in face of a heavy fire.

"The order for the Iloilo command to make a landing was received the morning of the 11th. Information of the intention and an ultimatum were sent to the insurgents at 3:30 p. m., giving them time to withdraw or surrender. On the morning of the 12th, instead of withdrawing as expected, they began throwing up intrenchments. A couple of warning shots from the Petrel brought a return fire, to which the Petrel and Boston replied, directing everything against the fort. Immediately the town was set afire by the insurgents, and the flames spread rapidly over the south end. The detachment under Captain Tilly aboard the Newport then, in accordance with instructions, directed the disembarking of troops from the Arizona and St. Paul by signals and also worked with the cruiser Boston, through which a tow of boats, containing part of the Tennessee regiment, was landed. A signal station was soon established within the fort, opening up communication with the ships and transports and the telegraph put in operation out to the line of the burning buildings. The town was soon cleared of insurgents, and the troops advanced to the Jaro and Molo bridges.

"In the construction of telegraph lines through the burning district the men suffered greatly from the smoke and heat and occasionally received a scattering fire. The signal party sent with the force to capture Jaro worked in the midst of a sharp action. Later the office of the captain of the port was put into communication with the navy. The provost marshal's office, Iloilo, the Eighteenth infantry at Jaro, General Miller's headquarters at the junction of Jaro and Molo roads, and the headquarters of the Tennessee regiment at Molo bridge were in telegraphic communication, the offices being operated day and night in consequence of the unsettled condition.

"A most interesting series of photographs has been taken during action. The work has been executed under the personal supervision of Captain George E. Lawrence, many of the pictures representing actual battle scenes, to secure which has necessitated the exposure of Lawrence to sharp fire repeatedly. The prints and original negatives are already sent to Washington.

"Just before the outbreak it had become evident that the Cavite cable would not last much longer. The Manila reach, consisting of light insulated wire, had become so weak that just after the opening of hostilities, while buoying the joint, it gave way. The old cable was grappled and the new pieces spliced in and laid with such expedition that the interruption of communication with Cavite was hardly noticeable. Much credit is due to Lieutenant Edward E. Kelly for his management of the technical part of the work. The cable is laid sufficiently inshore to avoid the anchorage of heavy craft, but in sufficient depth to insure against probability of interference by insurgents."—New York Sun.

Would Have Done the Same.

Rudyard Kipling undoubtedly got his wit from his maternal grandfather, the Rev. George B. Macdonald, a Wesleyan clergyman. It is related of this bright Macdonald that in the days when he was courting the lady whom he afterward married the father-in-law to be—an aged Methodist with extremely strict notions in regard to the proprieties—was injudicious enough on one occasion to enter the parlor without giving any warning of his approach. The consequence was that he found the sweethearts occupying a single chair.

Deeply shocked by this spectacle the old man solemnly said: "Mr. Macdonald, when I was courting Mrs. Brown she sat on one side of the room and I on the other."

Macdonald's reply was: "That's what I should have done if I had been courting Mrs. Brown."—Troy Press.

Malta's way of treating rheumatism is a trifle heroic, but a generation brought up on mustard plasters and electricity ought not to object to it. The patient is stripped and bees are cordially invited to settle upon his body. It amuses the bees and cures the rheumatism, so it seems to be a philanthropic system all around. The poison in the bee stings is said to neutralize the acid in the blood which is responsible for the rheumatism.

Paulson, David T. Flannery and Arthur A. Alexander and Private Allen Kirby, for excellence of their service in signaling under fire at Caloocan; Sergeant Augustus N. Maxliner and first class Privates John K. Weir and Clarence J. Prendergast, for long and trying service under fire at outposts, and first class Private Herschel B. Young, for carrying an important dispatch to blockhouse in face of a heavy fire.

"The order for the Iloilo command to make a landing was received the morning of the 11th. Information of the intention and an ultimatum were sent to the insurgents at 3:30 p. m., giving them time to withdraw or surrender. On the morning of the 12th, instead of withdrawing as expected, they began throwing up intrenchments. A couple of warning shots from the Petrel brought a return fire, to which the Petrel and Boston replied, directing everything against the fort. Immediately the town was set afire by the insurgents, and the flames spread rapidly over the south end. The detachment under Captain Tilly aboard the Newport then, in accordance with instructions, directed the disembarking of troops from the Arizona and St. Paul by signals and also worked with the cruiser Boston, through which a tow of boats, containing part of the Tennessee regiment, was landed. A signal station was soon established within the fort, opening up communication with the ships and transports and the telegraph put in operation out to the line of the burning buildings. The town was soon cleared of insurgents, and the troops advanced to the Jaro and Molo bridges.

"In the construction of telegraph lines through the burning district the men suffered greatly from the smoke and heat and occasionally received a scattering fire. The signal party sent with the force to capture Jaro worked in the midst of a sharp action. Later the office of the captain of the port was put into communication with the navy. The provost marshal's office, Iloilo, the Eighteenth infantry at Jaro, General Miller's headquarters at the junction of Jaro and Molo roads, and the headquarters of the Tennessee regiment at Molo bridge were in telegraphic communication, the offices being operated day and night in consequence of the unsettled condition.

"A most interesting series of photographs has been taken during action. The work has been executed under the personal supervision of Captain George E. Lawrence, many of the pictures representing actual battle scenes, to secure which has necessitated the exposure of Lawrence to sharp fire repeatedly. The prints and original negatives are already sent to Washington.

"Just before the outbreak it had become evident that the Cavite cable would not last much longer. The Manila reach, consisting of light insulated wire, had become so weak that just after the opening of hostilities, while buoying the joint, it gave way. The old cable was grappled and the new pieces spliced in and laid with such expedition that the interruption of communication with Cavite was hardly noticeable. Much credit is due to Lieutenant Edward E. Kelly for his management of the technical part of the work. The cable is laid sufficiently inshore to avoid the anchorage of heavy craft, but in sufficient depth to insure against probability of interference by insurgents."—New York Sun.

Would Have Done the Same.

Rudyard Kipling undoubtedly got his wit from his maternal grandfather, the Rev. George B. Macdonald, a Wesleyan clergyman. It is related of this bright Macdonald that in the days when he was courting the lady whom he afterward married the father-in-law to be—an aged Methodist with extremely strict notions in regard to the proprieties—was injudicious enough on one occasion to enter the parlor without giving any warning of his approach. The consequence was that he found the sweethearts occupying a single chair.

Deeply shocked by this spectacle the old man solemnly said: "Mr. Macdonald, when I was courting Mrs. Brown she sat on one side of the room and I on the other."

Macdonald's reply was: "That's what I should have done if I had been courting Mrs. Brown."—Troy Press.

A Heroic Remedy.

Malta's way of treating rheumatism is a trifle heroic, but a generation brought up on mustard plasters and electricity ought not to object to it. The patient is stripped and bees are cordially invited to settle upon his body. It amuses the bees and cures the rheumatism, so it seems to be a philanthropic system all around. The poison in the bee stings is said to neutralize the acid in the blood which is responsible for the rheumatism.

A Wonderful New Violet.

Signor Emilio Borgiotti, an enthusiastic lover of flowers, near Pistoja, Italy, has succeeded in producing a new species of violet six centimeters in diameter and having from 70 to 100 petals. Signor Borgiotti has presented some of his precious violets to Queen Margherita and to the Duchess of Aosta, as well as to many women of the aristocracy, but in spite of the entreaties of many florists he still refuses to place them on the market or to reveal the cross by which he has obtained this marvelously beautiful flower.—Rome Cor. London Leader.

Feeding the Fire.

The most powerful engine must stop if the fires are not fed. Man is the most wonderful piece of machinery in the world, yet no matter how strong and well-made his bodily frame may be, if the fire of life within him is not constantly fed his limbs and muscles become powerless and useless. The reason men become helpless and diseased is because the food they eat, which is the fuel of life, is not properly digested and appropriated by the stomach and nutritive organs. It is not completely transformed into the strength and working power which is to man what steam is to the engine.

That wonderful power-making "Golden Medical Discovery," invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., imbues the human digestive juices and blood-making glands with capacity to extract abundant nourishment from the food. It builds up organic tissue, nerve fiber, hard muscular flesh and working force. It gives a man steam.

What it did for Mr. F. S. Hughes, of Junction, Hunterdon Co., N. J., is given in his own words. He writes: "I received your kind letter, and in reply would say that mine was a bad case of kidney and liver trouble, and that six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and four bottles of little 'Pelle's' effected a complete cure. It is well known that almost every engineer is troubled more or less with kidney trouble, especially on our fast express trains. I run one hundred and forty-four miles on these trains every day in the week, and have had no return of the trouble since taking the remedies, nearly three years ago."

WHAT THIS MAN SAYS

Only Reechoes the Sentiments of Thousands In Our Republic.

The East Liverpool reader is asked to thoroughly investigate the following. This can readily be done as the gentleman whose statement is published below will only be too pleased to give minutely particulars to anyone enquiring, not out of idle curiosity, but if the enquirer really suffers from any of the consequences which always attend weakened or inactive kidneys. Read carefully what William Terrence, fireman at Engine House No. 1, has to say:

"For some time I have been annoyed with symptoms of either weakened or over-exercised kidneys. I had noticed more than one recommendation made by people living in East Liverpool about Doan's Kidney Pills, and thinking that if the medicine performed half what it promised, it might help me, I bought a box at Larkins' drug store. They cured me."

~THE~ PERFECTION COUCH

Guaranteed For Four Years.

AN ideal Couch is one which is perfect in comfort and would last forever. The Perfection Couch is the nearest approach to the ideal which modern skill and invention could produce. The only portions of the couch not made of steel are the wooden frame, the soft upholstering material and the cover. The springs rest on patent steel supports, which can never give way. On the tops of the springs is placed a steel constructed woven wire, upon which the bur-lap, filling material and cover are upholstered. This construction has withstood the severest tests, and we guarantee that Perfection Couches will not break down. The buttons are fastened without the use of twine, and an inspection of them will convince any person that that they will never pull out. While the great end sought in constructing the Perfection Couches was durability, it was also made with a special view to comfort, and the resiliency and seating quality obtained by this method is absolutely perfect. Every Perfection Couch is elegant in workmanship and new in design. A handsomer line of couches has never been offered for sale.

~THE~ PERFECTION COUCH

Guaranteed For Four Years.

An ideal Couch is one which is perfect in comfort and would last forever. The Perfection Couch is the nearest approach to the ideal which modern skill and invention could produce. The only portions of the couch not made of steel are the wooden frame, the soft upholstering material and the cover. The springs rest on patent steel supports, which can never give way. On the tops of the springs is placed a steel constructed woven wire, upon which the bur-lap, filling material and cover are upholstered. This construction has withstood the severest tests, and we guarantee that Perfection Couches will not break down. The buttons are fastened without the use of twine, and an inspection of them will convince any person that that they will never pull out. While the great end sought in constructing the Perfection Couches was durability, it was also made with a special view to comfort, and the resiliency and seating quality obtained by this method is absolutely perfect. Every Perfection Couch is elegant in workmanship and new in design. A handsomer line of couches has never been offered for sale.

SAMPLE IS MODERATOR

Presides Over the Presbyterian General Assembly.

TRIUMPH FOR CONSERVATIVES.

He Had 338 Votes, 300 Necessary For Choice—Gavel of Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine Wood Presented—Religious Services at Opening Session.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 19.—Rev. Dr. R. F. Sample of Westminster church, New York, proved an easy winner in the contest for the place of moderator of the one hundred and eleventh annual assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, at Westminster church. Dr. Sample was elected on the first ballot, after a spirited contest, receiving 338 votes, 300 being necessary for a choice, to 127 for the Rev. Matthias Haines of the First church, Indianapolis, and 133 for Rev. Dr. R. F. Coyle of Oakland, Cal. Dr. Sample's election is regarded as a triumph for the conservative element.

The morning session was devoted to religious services, which were attended by about 600 commissioners and so many spectators that the 1,800 seats of the church were not sufficient to accommodate them. Dr. Henry Branch of Elliott City, Md., pronounced the invocation; a quartet sang the anthem "In the Wilderness," by Goss; Rev. Pleasant Hunter of Minneapolis led in responsive reading of the 121st and 122d Psalms; a number of hymns were sung and Dr. Douglas P. Putnam of Logansport, Ind., read the Bible lesson; Dr. R. F. Sample of New York, made the prayer. The sermon was preached by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, Washington.

In the afternoon Permanent Secretary Rev. W. E. Moore called the roll and immediately afterward the election of a moderator was declared to be in order. Dr. McKibben of Cincinnati, hitherto a prominent candidate for the place, nominated Rev. R. F. Sample. This was regarded as a move to concentrate the conservatives on a single candidate. Dr. McKibben said that though some men require certificates of character or orthodoxy Dr. Sample required neither. He was also a man of good judgment and coolness, and clear cut and firm. He appealed to the assembly to elect Dr. Sample unanimously.

Dr. Sample's nomination was seconded by L. Y. Graham of Philadelphia and Rev. John Balcom Shaw of New York. Dr. H. P. Carson of Brooklyn placed in nomination Rev. Matthias Haines of Indianapolis, whom he characterized as a man of keen, ripe judgment, sagacious, methodical and of the most honorable purpose. Rev. Howard Taylor of Baltimore and Rev. D. P. Putnam of Logansport, Ind., seconded the nomination of Dr. Haines.

Dr. E. B. Wright of Austin nominated Judge Robert Wilson of Philadelphia because he said he always made it a point to name an elder. Judge Wilson, however, withdrew his name.

Rev. John Dinsmore, in an eloquent nominating speech, put forward Dr. R. F. Coyle of Oakland, Cal., who was regarded as the liberal candidate. Mr. Dinsmore described Dr. Coyle's merits and begged the assembly once more to name a moderator from the Pacific coast, which felt itself isolated and in need of the inspiration that would flow from such a choice. Elder Montgomery of San Francisco and S. G. Anderson of Maumee, O., seconded Dr. Coyle's nomination.

The moderator appointed as tellers A. R. Quaffie, Washington; G. T. Coxhead, St. Louis; J. W. Pettibone, Chicago; P. W. Lyon, West Jersey, Pa. It took almost an hour to take the ballot. The result was greeted with great applause.

Messrs. McKibben, Shaw and Graham were appointed to escort Dr. Sample to the chair. The new moderator expressed his gratitude that the assembly should have chosen him to so high a place in his old pastorate of Westminster, Minneapolis, and among his own people of other days. He spoke of the problems that confront the church and of the urgent necessity of carrying the gospel into the new lands opened by the Spanish-American war.

Rev. Pleasant Hunter welcomed the assembly to Minneapolis, and presented Dr. Sample with a gavel of Cuban, Porto Rican and Philippine wood.

A resolution was adopted directing the moderator to send to M. de Staal, president of the international peace conference, a message "invoking the blessing of Almighty God on your deliberations."

Temporary clerks were appointed as follows: Thomas E. Kirkwood, Pueblo, Colo.; E. T. Swiggert, Cincinnati; P. H. Brooks, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; H. W. Jessup, New York.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated in Westminster church last night, the Rev. Wallace Radcliffe presiding.

John Balcom Shaw, a director of Union Theological seminary, in which Dr. Arthur C. McGiffert is a professor, confirms the statement that Dr. McGiffert has sent a letter anent the so-called heresy case. It is believed that this letter contains a satisfactory explanation of Dr. McGiffert's statements about the Lord's supper in his book, "The Christian Church in the Apostolic Age," and that therefore no heresy proceedings will be taken against him.

INDIGNANT AT GEN. BROOKE.

Alger Displeased With His Disregard of the President's Orders—May Delay Payment of Cubans.

NEW YORK, May 19.—A special to The World from Washington said:

General Brooke was instructed by the president to insist that the arms of the Cubans be turned over to officers of the United States army. Instead General Brooke agreed with General Gomez that the arms shall be surrendered to the mayors of the Cuban cities.

General Corbin left for Hot Springs tonight (Thursday night) to learn from the president whether or not he will insist upon his original order to General Brooke being carried out.

Officials of the war department regard General Brooke's disregard of the president's implicit instructions as a moral victory for General Gomez and the dissatisfied Cubans.

Secretary Alger is highly indignant over General Brooke's surprising disregard of the president's strict orders. He tonight (Thursday night) telegraphed to president full details.

It is generally conceded that these developments in Cuba will greatly delay the distribution of the $3,000,000 to the Cuban army.

Gomez Issued a Manifesto.

HAVANA, May 19.—The expected manifesto of General Maximo Gomez was issued last evening. It reviews his part in the negotiations with Governor General Brooke, and spoke of his love for Cuba and his sufferings on her behalf in the past. General Gomez then justified his course.

TO MAKE A SURRENDER

Rebel Commission Expected at Manila Today.

INSURRECTION LIKELY ENDING.

People of Manila Confident—Commissioners Reached San Isidro Last Night. Otis Sent Good News—Aguinaldo Reported as Acting the Coward.

MANILA, May 19.—(10 a. m.)—Philippine commissioners to confer with the American commission regarding surrender arrived last night at San Isidro and are coming to Manila today.

The people of Manila are confident that the insurrection is ending.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—General Otis has cabled the war department as follows:

MANILA, May 18. Representatives of the insurgent cabinet and Aguinaldo, who are in the mountains 12 miles north of San Isidro, which was abandoned on the 15th inst., will send in a commission tomorrow to seek terms of peace.

The majority of the force confronting MacArthur at San Fernando has retired to Tarlac, tearing up two miles of railway. This force has decreased to about 2,500. Scouting parties and detachments are moving today in various directions. Major Kobbe, with his command, is at Candava, on the Rio Grande. The great majority of the inhabitants of the provinces over which the troops have moved are anxious for peace, and are supported by members of the insurgent cabinet. The aspect of affairs at present is favorable.

MANILA, May 19.—Two Spanish prisoners arrived here from Nueva Ecija said Aguinaldo had lost prestige with the rebel army, which was described as being completely demoralized, short of food, suffering from diseases, afraid of the Americans and rapidly dissolving into armed bands of pillagers.

The prisoners added that Generals Pilar and Luna were the only influential Filipinos who were continuing resistance to the Americans.

Aguinaldo's personal retinue was recently relieved of its baggage and money while on the way from San Isidro to Bebanatan by marauders.

Some of Chinese were being victimized by both rebels and looters.

Buenacino, a prominent Filipino leader, who was friendly to Spain and joined in the compromise arrangement, whereby the Spaniards hoped to conciliate the rebel leaders without sacrificing too much, was reported as saying Aguinaldo sat indoors crying and blamed himself for the miserable condition of the country and was afraid to surrender.

Another of Taylor's Victims Died.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—Another chapter was added to the Montgomery county tragedy, when Mrs. Dora W. Rosenstein died at the Maryland University hospital. Her husband, Louis Rosenstein, died at the same institution last Sunday. The couple were beaten into insensibility at their little store at Slidell, Montgomery county, last Saturday morning. Humphrey Taylor, who shot and instantly killed Police Sergeant Fritz Passau of Washington, was believed to be the murderer of the Rosensteins.

CZAR CONGRATULATED.

Peace Conference Sent Messages to Him and Queen Wilhelmina—Sessions to Be Secret.

THE HAGUE, May 19.—The peace conference called by the czar of Russia held the opening session in the hall of the Huis Ten Bosch, or the "House in the Woods," two miles from The Hague.

M. De Beaufort, president of the council and minister of foreign affairs of the government of the Netherlands, delivered the inaugural address and welcomed the delegates.

The delegates decided to send the following telegram to the czar:

"The peace conference lays at the feet of your majesty its respectful congratulations upon the occasion of your birthday and expressed its sincere desire to co-operate in the great and noble work in which your majesty has taken a generous initiative and for which it begs you to accept its humble and profound gratitude."

After making his address M. De Staal, in behalf of the conference, telegraphed to the queen of the Netherlands as follows:

"The members of this conference assembled for the first time in this beautiful Huis Ten Bosch, hasten to lay at the feet of your majesty their best wishes, praying you to accept their homage and gratitude for the hospitality you have so graciously deigned to offer them."

The reading of the message was warmly applauded.

M. De Beaufort was appointed honorary president and the leading Dutch delegate A. P. C. Van Kornebeck, former minister of foreign affairs and deputy, was appointed vice president.

After the appointment of nine secretaries M. DeStaal's proposal that the sessions be secret was adopted.

The next session will take place tomorrow, when the delegates will arrange a program and appoint committees.

The conference then adjourned. The session lasted only about 25 minutes and the apparent unanimity displayed was considered to augur well for the outcome.

FLOWER GAVE A TENTH.

This Was His Practice, Although His Gifts Were Greater—Left Charitable Bequests.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., May 19.—The will of the late ex-Governor Flower was filed for probate. He left bequests to various relatives and to his former cashier, $10,000 interest to St. Thomas parish, New York, for the benefit of the parish house erected in memory of his son, who died in 1880, and $10,000 to Trinity parish, Watertown, for the benefit of the poor. The residue was left to his widow and daughter.

Governor Flower had made a practice for years of giving away at least one-tenth of his income. His gifts, however, have always far exceeded his regular tithe. During the last year, it was learned from the best authority, he gave away directly or indirectly over $1,000,000.

The letter was addressed to the Polar Expedition at Goeteberg, and bore Andree's own stamp, with the request that it be placed in the nearest postoffice.

Magunssen, it was added, gave the letter to a merchant, Sevin Elnaison, at Thistelfjord, who mailed it and it was expected to arrive at its destination in the course of a few days.

MRS. GEORGE'S FROST

Ninety-two People at Rock Spring Last Night.

SEVENTEEN WOMEN WERE THERE

Manager McElhanev Threatened to Make a Speech Too, but Took Pity on the Suffering Audience—Mrs. George, However, Was Pitiless, and Read the Whole Lecture to the Bitter, Bitter End.

Vice is sometimes described as attractive; sometimes as revolting. Mrs. Anna E. George is neither. Worse still, she is uninteresting.

There were 92 people at her lecture at Rock Spring last night, 17 of whom were women and two were children. Her manager knew his business when he only booked her for a one night performance here. If she had been billed for another exhibition tonight, even the boy in the box office would have stayed away.

At 8:45 o'clock there were 40 people in the house and the lecture was corked until another car arrived. This was at 9:15. About 9:30 Manager McElhanev appeared on the platform, put his arm caressingly on top of the piano and invited the audience to assemble itself on the vacant chairs in the body of the hall. It should be explained that the seats downstairs were supposed to be reserved and cost 35 cents each. Those in the gallery were a quarter. Of those present 60 were in the gallery and the rest below. Half of those in the gallery accepted Mr. McElhanev's invitation. The others remained where they were.

The manager retired until another car arrived, bringing six more of an audience, when once more he caressed the piano top and took the audience into his confidence. It had been, he said, his intention to make a little speech himself, but he had thought he wouldn't. So he wouldn't, but would now have the pleasure of introducing to them Mrs. Anna E. George. Two of the audience greeted her with subdued applause.

The lecturer is a woman rather above the medium height, of slim figure and no particular beauty. She wore a black skirt and a grey waist. She carried her lecture in her hands, it probably being too intellectually heavy to carry in her head. She made no pretense to deliver it, but read it in a jerky, disconnected way that would have cost a primary grade pupil in the public schools half an hour in a corner with his face to the wall. Her platform attitude was awkward and immovable. She just stood and read.

The lecture itself was the same as that delivered elsewhere. It was entitled "A Sketch From Life," and had about as much life in it as Bryan's boom for 1900. It was made up of a bald recital of her marriage, her meeting with Saxton, her separation from Sample C. George, and a few chunks of "Take warning by me," "In heaven's name profit by my bitter, bitter, bitter experience," thrown in to give the desired moral tone that would catch suckers. It was not sensational; it was not instructive; it was not interesting. There may be worse lecturers and a worse lecture, but it is a million to one shot there isn't. It's a pity Mrs. George didn't lecture to the jury. If she had—well, the verdict would have been different.

DELEGATES ARE HOME

THE EAST END.

BRICK WORK STARTED

On the New Pottery Yesterday Afternoon.

STOCK TAKING AT SEWER WORKS

Completed Yesterday Morning--The Firm Out of Many Sizes--Replacing the Gable at the Fire Station--Quarterly Conference at the Second M. E. Church.

The brick work on the new pottery being erected by the Laughlin China company was commenced yesterday afternoon. Not many bricks were laid, but this morning a larger force of men were placed on the work, and much progress was made during the day. Contractor Gamble, in speaking of the work, said:

"We have placed orders for 1,500,000 brick, and these will be consumed in constructing the walls, kilns and laying brick floors. We expect to have our part of the work completed by the middle of August and ware will be placed in the kilns not later than Sept. 15. The glost kilns are the same as in use at the other potteries, being 15.6 feet in diameter, and have a down drafter. The latter is a patent kiln and is now in use at the Laughlin pottery on the river."

The foundation for the plant will be completed within a few weeks. The masons are now working on the foundation of what will be known later as the warehouse. The bricklayers who are now employed at the new Salem pottery will be put to work at the plant in East End.

Through Taking Stock.

The work of taking stock at the Knowles, Taylor & Anderson sewer pipe works was completed yesterday morning. The work was in the hands of Jess Wright and Isaiah Tice. The men found the stock very low, and the plant at the present time is out of about 15 different sizes. As pipe is being shipped every day, the stock is running very low, and within a short time the yards will be empty. When the plant is put in operation a steady run is anticipated.

Work was commenced this morning repairing the portions of the main building that were damaged by the recent storm. It will be completed by the last of next week. A portion of the roof destroyed will have to be replaced with new material.

Quarterly Conference.

The regular quarterly communion will be observed by the congregation of the Second M. E. church next Sunday evening. The sermon will be preached by Presiding Elder Jackson, of the Steubenville district of the Methodist Protestant conference. On Monday night at 8 o'clock the quarterly conference will meet. Considerable business will be transacted.

That New Kiln.

The new kiln being erected at the East End pottery will be completed, it is thought, next week. The kiln has been in course of construction since last week. It is probable an additional kiln will be erected at this pottery some time in the very near future. The plant is running full and a large amount of orders are being received daily.

Replaced the Gable.

Yesterday work was commenced replacing the gable on the fire station that was blown down by the storm of Tuesday evening. The work is being done by three men, and it is thought they will complete the work by Monday. The gable will be made more secure than the old one.

Raise For a Postmaster.

The salary of the postmaster of Leetonia has been raised from $1,500 to $1,600 per annum. Also an additional $100 has been given to the postmaster for clerk hire, which makes the post-office in that city a $1,700 office. The increase will take effect July 1.

Secured a Position.

Earl P. Carman left yesterday for Bethany, W. Va., where he has taken a position as salesman in a large store at that place. He will remain there during the summer, but in the fall will go back to school.

Sent Some Pipe Away.

The sewer pipe works yesterday shipped a car load of sewer pipe to Sewickley. Several cars have been sent away during the week.

48^c SHIRTS $3

Between these prices there are a score of qualities. Each is well represented here. The first price buys here a silk front shirt--the last price buys one of all silk. Between the first and last there are cheviots, madrasses, percales, linens, each with a quota of followers. Some loud enough to be used for a fog horn--others so sedate you'd almost imagine the owner must suck his thumb.

Shirts for factory, for fireside, for farming. Shirts for banker, for broker, for bicyclist, for butcher, for baker. Shirts for dudes, for dress, for dinners. Shirts so plentiful you'll wonder where all the men are to come from to fill 'em.

AND THIS IS A SHIRT STORE--THIS IS SHIRT WEEK.

MORE ABOUT THE HIGH ART CLOTHING.

Several letters, received this week from New York and Rochester manufacturers, complimented us for having courage enough, as they termed it, to advertise the better grades. One eastern retail house, doing business amounting to many hundred thousands, copied our advertisement. There are more men, even among the laboring classes, who want dependable clothing than there are men who will buy trashy stuff. A $10 suit which will give a year's wear, is certainly cheaper than one at $7.98 or some such odd figure, that won't wear a month. There's less profit in these finer goods, to be sure, but one firm in town must work for reputation and permanency, and here it's Erlanger & Co.

HELD A JOINT SESSION

Two Boards of Health Adopt Stringent Measures

IN REGARD TO EXPECTORATING

In Street Cars and All Public Conveyances as Well as Public Buildings—The Action Will Be Reported to the Councils With the Request That They Take Action.

The joint session of the health boards of this city and Wellsville, held last evening at city hall, was a flattering success.

Mayor Bough presided, and there were present at the meeting D. F. Nellis, Cross Kerr, Ben Haines, Doctor Andrews, J. H. Burgess, Doctor Ogden, representing the local board, while representing the Wellsville members who were present were Dr. F. K. Hutcheson, Peter Knepper, J. S. Windram, H. M. McCreary. Clerk Bursner acted as secretary of the meeting.

Mayor Bough explained that the object of the meeting was to take some action toward prohibiting expectorating in street cars and to informally discuss the matter with a view of making a recommendation to the councils of the two cities. He then stated that he thought it would be a good idea for the body to consider the garbage question as it was one that vitally concerned the two cities. He read an extract from an act of congress passed March 3, 1899, which prohibited the depositing of garbage in the river or on the banks of any navigable streams, the only exception being in favor of sewers. A penalty of $500 to $2,500 is imposed for violation of the act. The mayor said he was exceedingly anxious to see some action taken in regard to the matter, as he didn't want any penalty for this city.

Mr. Haines opened the discussion by asking Clerk Bursner to read the copies of ordinances he had against spitting in street cars. The clerk read the Boston ordinance which declared that the depositing of sputum in street cars was a nuisance and a penalty was imposed for violating the same. The Pittsburg ordinance makes it unlawful to expectorate in public conveyances. The penalty for violating the same is not less than $1 nor more than $5 for each offense.

Doctor Hutcheson stated that it was he who first called the matter to the attention of the Wellsville board, and his reason for so doing was that one day he was riding on a street car between the two cities, and directly in front of him was a consumptive who expectorated on the floor depositing a mass of filth that was horrible to see. He said another reason for passing the ordinance was the fact that it was impossible for ladies to go in the cars with good clothes on as some of the cars almost swim in tobacco spit. He was heartily in favor of having the ordinance go through.

Mr. Windram stated that the Pittsburg ordinance was all right but that it should take in the public sidewalks, as he considered that the greatest nuisance of all as the ladies seldom went up street that they did not return home with some filth on their skirts. He did not think it would be much trouble for people to spit in the gutters.

Doctor Andrews said he heartily agreed with the movement, but in regard to spitting on the sidewalks he thought it would be a good idea for the ladies to curtail the fashion and not wear such long trains. He did not think an ordinance of that kind could be enforced, but Doctor Hutcheson stated that such an ordinance was in effect in Cincinnati.

Mr. McCreary was in favor of an ordinance prohibiting spitting in public buildings, sidewalks and street cars, and thought it was the duty of the board to take some action. Mr. Knepper thought if an ordinance could be passed in regard to street cars one could be passed in regard to sidewalks.

Mr. Haines was in favor of the street car ordinance, but not in regard to sidewalks, and said he would vote against an ordinance of that kind. Mr. Nellis favored the ordinance with the additions, as did Mr. Kerr. Doctor Ogden was of the same opinion, while Sanitary Officer Burgess made a strong speech on the subject.

Mr. Kerr made a motion that the two councils be presented with a communication stating that it was the sense of the boards that an ordinance be passed prohibiting spitting in streets cars, public conveyances and public buildings. The motion carried and Mr. Haines asked how an ordinance of that kind could be enforced. Mayor Bough replied that if the people wanted the ordinance it was their duty to make information when they saw it violated.

The action will be reported to the city solicitor and an effort will be made to have the ordinance introduced at the next meeting of council.

LEFT THE RAILS.

Serious Accident Narrowly Avoided Near Leetonia Yesterday.

LISBON, May 19.—[Special.]—Yesterday afternoon as the Erie train was about a mile south of Leetonia going toward Lisbon at the rate of 30 miles an hour the rails on one side of the track turned and both coaches and all but the front truck on the engine left the track. Engineer Dunn stopped the train within 200 yards. No one was hurt. The engine from the coal train went up and helped the passenger engine to pull the cars on the solid track. The truck of the baggage coach was damaged some and left at Franklin Square. The regular train came into Lisbon with one coach three hours later. Judge Wells was a passenger on the train from Battle Creek.

NEXT WEEK

Will the Cleaning of the Fire Station Be Completed.

The fire station is being cleaned throughout and the work will be completed probably next week. The washing of the inside wood work has made quite a change in the appearance of the building. It is thought that the outside of the building will be painted, although nothing definite as yet has been done in the matter.

Trials and Tribulations.

Sore trials and tribulations seem to be the inheritance of the town of Wellsville. Just after the bonds had recently been sold for the extension of the water system the iron pipe trust went into effect and the price of pipe advanced several dollars per ton. Again, when the bonds have been sold for an extensive sewer system the sewerpipe trust is about take hold of things, with a prospect that the selling price of sewerpipe will advance 25 per cent or more. It is impossible to be happy in Wellsville.—Buckeye State.

The George show had a rocky time at

MRS. GEORGE carries her frost with her. Last night was the coldest May evening in years.

ANNA may have been justified in shooting at Saxton but there is no justification for her shooting a lecture at un-
 offending strangers.

A CREDIT TO THE CITY.

The failure of Mrs. George's lecture in this city is a credit to East Liverpool.
 It proves to the world that the people of this community are a self respecting people, with a true appreciation of their duty as citizens and individuals. Those who went to hear the lecture were sufficiently punished by the infliction of an hour of insipid moralizing delivered in a monotonous sing-song by a women
 without any single attribute that goes
 to make an attractive platform speaker.
 There may be divergent opinions as to
 Mrs. George's proper place in the world
 just now, but there is no difference of opinion about it not being the lecture
 platform.

FOR CLEANLINESS.

The decision of the joint meeting of the boards of health of this city and Wellsville in favor of the passage of an ordinance prohibiting spitting in street
 cars, public buildings and public conveyances will be approved by everyone.
 It is a distinct advance towards the protection of health and in the line of public decency. There should be no difficulty in enforcing the law
 which is already observed by all who have the slightest pretension to good manners. The suggestion that a similar ordinance be enacted prohibiting spitting
 upon sidewalks will be equally welcome.
 The city of Pittsburg has had such a law
 for some years and it has greatly improved the reputation of that city. If it can be enforced there it should be enforced here. All decent citizens will rejoice when the new laws are in effect
 and strictly enforced, and no time
 should be lost in passing both ordinances, covering not only street cars
 and public buildings, but the sidewalks
 as well.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION

May Cause Some Trouble to the City.

A FURNACE MUST BE BUILT

Congress Has Passed an Act Prohibiting the Dumping of Garbage in the River, and a Heavy Penalty Is Attached--The Matter Will Be Presented to Council.

The garbage question was thoroughly discussed last evening at the meeting of the board of health.

Mayor Bough stated that he had received an intimation that somebody along the Ohio river was going to get into serious trouble if the dumping of garbage in the river was not stopped, and he didn't think the city had any money to pay out in fines.

Mr. Haines stated that he had found out that there was nothing in the story that a man had erected a furnace in Beaver Falls in order to get a franchise. Clerk Bursner stated that he had been in Beaver Falls, and said a franchise had been granted A. R. Leyda, but when the time arrived to build the furnace he had failed to put up a bond, and the matter fell through.

Mayor Bough said the board was face to face with a serious question and he feared an attack from some source. Mr. Kerr told of the numerous letters he had received and estimated that a furnace for the city would cost $14,000. Clerk Bursner said it oughtn't to cost over $7,500, while Doctor Hutchison said the Youngstown furnace only cost $6,000.

Mr. Windram said a garbage furnace was a wilful waste and the garbage was worth thousands of dollars. He said he had visited the city of Leicester, Eng., and that city made $25,000 a year out of the garbage. He was in favor of a furnace but thought the city should own it.

Mr. Haines thought it was time the board asked council for an appropriation as a furnace would have to be built.

Doctor Ogden said he had noticed in a Pittsburg paper where parties below here had written the war department asking about the matter.

Upon motion of Mr. Nellis the president of the board was appointed to appear before council and explain the matter to them.

Tanyard run was again discussed and the board finally proposed a motion declaring the run a nuisance, and that council be required to cover the run immediately.

A vote of thanks was tendered the Wellsville board of health, and the party went to an uptown restaurant where they partook of refreshments at the expense of Mayor Bough.

READY TO BUILD

The Proposed Railroad Between This Place and Lisbon.

The promoters of the Liverpool and Lisbon railroad are now ready to advertise for bids for the construction of the road from West Point to Lisbon. A representative of the company was seen this morning and said that the only thing delaying the work was the waiting to see if the work of the solicitors who are now soliciting purchasers of the traffic certificates is successful. "So far everything has been in our favor, and I firmly believe the road will be built this year."

ROAD WAS CLEARED.

The Tracks at Merrill Station Now in Good Shape.

The work of clearing the tracks at Merrill of the slide which occurred Wednesday night was completed this morning. The steam shovel was used to advantage, and as a result some quick work was done. The tracks were straightened yesterday afternoon, and the pile driver will be sent to the place of the accident to strengthen the south bank of the road. The loss to the company was in the neighborhood of $500.

REGULAR'S OPINION OF THE CITY

One's Life Is In Constant Danger In the Hands of the Cubans, While the Spaniards Act Like Gentlemen--A Taste of Bad Beef.

William Wagner, for six months artificer of Company B, Tenth United States infantry, stationed in the city of Havana, was in the city yesterday, arriving in the morning and returning to Pittsburg at 4:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wagner was seen during the afternoon and in speaking of the regiment and its work in Havana said:

"A soldier's life in Cuba at present is one that is hard to describe. The regiment in which I was a member has been doing police and guard duty in Havana for several months. I was honorably discharged from the service the first of the month," and after showing the papers to a reporter continued, "a soldier's life while doing police duty is a dangerous one. The streets are very narrow, and the main street of Havana is a dandy, 40 feet wide. The sidewalks being narrow, about a yard or so wide, the soldier is oftentimes assaulted by a Cuban hid in windows. These windows are barred, and a knife can be stuck in a passing policeman at any time and no one would know who did it. The Cubans are a bad set of people while the educated Spaniard will treat you with the greatest of courtesy at any and all times. While I was with the regiment we had plenty of embalmed beef, and should I return to the city which I expect to within a short time, I will bring a can of it with me."

THE MIKADO

Presented at the Grand Opera House Last Evening.

"The Mikado" last evening was presented at the Grand for the benefit of the public library, and the performance was undoubtedly one of the best home talent productions ever given here, and the company was far superior to some of the professional opera companies that have appeared in the city.

The attendance was not large, but that did not prevent every member of the cast from doing their utmost to please the audience, and there was not a person present that was not more than satisfied. George F. Knowles as Koko again demonstrated to the East Liverpool public that he is an artist of exceptional ability while Walter Thompson as Nanki-Poo, has a beautiful tenor voice, and was heartily encored. Misses Luthringer, Hamil and McKinney, as Yum Yum, Pitti Sing and Peep Bo, Miss Parke as Katiska, Ed Mackintosh as Poo Bah, Ralph Woods as Pish Tush, George Eardley as Nee Ban and Robert Founts as the Mikado, were especially good.

The performance will be repeated this evening and should be given a packed house, as it is worth more than the price of admission, and the cause is a worthy one.

ANNIVERSARY.

Services of the Mission League Were Held Last Evening.

The ninth anniversary of the mission league of St. John's Evangelical church was observed last evening. The services were opened with devotional exercises, followed by vespers. Reverend Leinpike, of Rochester, read the scripture lesson, while the sermon on mission work was delivered by Rev. J. Whittaker, of Rochester. The services were well attended and were very interesting, and at this church on Sunday evening a Whitsuntide or Pentecostal service will be observed. A special program for this service has been arranged.

RAPID RISE.

The River Reached a Twenty-Two Foot Stage at Noon and Will Go Higher.

The river is rising rapidly and the marks at the foot of Market street may reach 25 feet by midnight if the stream continues to rise as fast as it did at noon today. At 1 o'clock today the marks showed 20 feet and rising.

As usual some damage was caused the shanty boats about this city. The Mountain State, back of the passenger depot, is under water and is damaged to the extent of $50. Several other small boat houses are under water, but the damage in each instance is comparatively slight.

About 40,000,000 bushels of coal will get away on the present rise, nearly all of it being destined to Louisville.

Many of the wickets at Davis island dam are out of repair, and some of them will have to be replaced with new ones. The high water has stopped the work for the time being.

The James Moren was the first to go south and passed down about 7 o'clock, and had several barges of iron in tow, with a large amount of coal.

The Queen City passed up at 7:45 this morning and ran very slow under the bridge on account of the high water. About two feet of space remained between the top of the stacks and the bridge. The Greenwood will be down tonight, and the Ben Hur went south last evening.

Passed up--Mount Clare, Ed Roberts, Sam Brown and Adelle.

CARRAHER GUILTY.

A Motion For a New Trial Is Likely to Be Made.

LISBON, May 19.--[Special]--In the case of Ohio versus Charles Carraher after being out seven hours the jury brought in a verdict of assault, with intent to rape. The general opinion around here was that the state didn't have a very strong case. There will likely be a motion for a new trial. The assault was alleged to have been committed on 9-year-old Katie Flannery at Salem. Carraher is from East Liverpool.

A GREAT PRAIRIE LAKE.

Irrigation on a New Plan to Be Tried in Kansas.

TRIAL AT CHEYENNE BOTTOMS.

Largest Artificial Lake Ready to Be Filled by the Late Spring Rise of the Arkansas—Fourteen Miles Long and Six Wide—Importance of the Test.

The wish of the people of the prairies for a great lake is ready for realization when the Arkansas river furnishes the supply of water at its late spring rise, says the New York Sun. The largest irrigation and improvement undertaking in the Mississippi valley has been completed, and if it proves successful there are hopes for climatic changes that will be of even more value than the land watering to be accomplished. A great basin has been made ready for the waters that come down from the mountains in the erratic Arkansas, and when filled the lake will support sail vessels where the prairie schooner has been traveling and will afford a great gathering place for waterfowl in their semiannual migrations.

For years the farmers along the course of the upper Arkansas have been using the water of the stream for irrigation. Indeed they have used it again and again, for the water seeped back to the underflow and was never kept from the river long at a time. So many were the users of the water that the stream is drained before it reaches the farms in central and southern Kansas. The people of Kansas threaten to bring suit against those of Colorado to secure a share of the water, but the outcome of such a plan is problematical. At seasons of the year when the sun has melted the snows on the mountains the broad bed of the river, across which a woman might walk at other times without wetting the soles of her feet, becomes the course of a torrent. Studying the configuration of the land along the river in its lower course, the engineers found that there might be built a ditch to carry off the surplus water and utilize it in benefiting the people of the eastern part of the state.

They found back of the foothills to the north of Great Bend, Kan., a peculiar formation that made possible a vast lake—a tract of land 14 miles long, from four to six miles wide, with every foot of it from 3 to 60 feet below the rim of hills that completely surrounds it. It is the bed of an ancient lake, and on its surface have grown for hundreds of years the grasses of prairie sloughs.

Cheyenne bottoms it is called, and there is a story that once it was the gathering place of the Cheyennes of the territory. Here they lighted their council fires and practiced their incantations. Marks of their occupation were common when the first settlers came. Later it was the famous rabbit chasing ground of the American Coursing association, which included prominent citizens and lovers of the chase in the eastern cities. They came to the fall meetings in special cars and brought valets to the prairies, causing much wonderment among the dwellers on the plain. Once a real prince was among those who watched the sleek hounds chase the fleet jack rabbits through the waving grass. He was one of the cattle kings of Wyoming and brought a small retinue of friends and servants with him. But courting meetings became too common, and the annual meetings here were given up. Since then it has been a grazing ground.

One day several years ago a dark cloud came up in the northwest and met another from the south directly over the bottoms. There was a tremendous rainfall, a cloudburst, and the bottoms were covered to a depth of six feet. For two years the water was visible, showing that the bed was nearly waterproof. Then the plan of making it into a lake took form, and at last work was begun. Now it is completed.

From the river has been dug a ditch with a capacity of 300 feet, to be enlarged to 1,200 feet later, which leads from the river beds to an opening made through the hills and is to pour its contents into the vast depression. The ditch has been running a considerable stream much of the spring, and when the high water comes it is expected that it will easily fill the old lake bottom and make an artificial body of water the largest of the kind in the nation and the largest of any kind between Chicago and Salt Lake. Around the shore is to be a gravel road, if the gravel can be secured. Trees are to be planted and, with the boats on the river, it is believed that a delightful resort for summer days on the plains, when hot winds hold sway, will be established. Along with the artistic advantages there are to be reaped other profits. The waters of ditch and lake are to be utilized by the farmers for irrigation and miles of laterals have already been constructed, so that nearly half of the county will be watered from this tributary of the Arkansas.

The problem of water supply is the most perplexing before the western people, and there have been many plans proposed that were intended to give relief. The rivers that flow from the hills and then, lagged and aimless, saunter across the prairies cannot furnish water to all who wish to secure their help. Too much water is wasted. At times the stream is bank full or is flooding all the surrounding country. Then there is drought, and dust flies from the bed of the stream. In the opinion of many the true solution of the question is by means of reservoirs which shall hold the surplus and give it out slowly when it is needed. To do this is the object of the Cheyenne Bottoms lake, and the experiment is on such a large scale that it promises to be an authoritative test of the plan. It will result in forming the largest artificial lake in the nation.

TO BRING BACK VOLUNTEERS

Ships Making Ready—Expected to Be on
the Way Home From Philippines
Within Two Months.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—War department officials expected that within two months the Pacific transport fleet would be on its way home from Manila with the last of the volunteer regiments. The entire Pacific fleet was being overhauled and provisioned for the voyage to Manila and return. There will be no delay in the sailing of the ships. Of the fleet of transports in the Pacific the Sherman, Grant and Sheridan are under orders for Manila, and will carry regular troops to take the place of the volunteers.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the heads of the staff bureaus of the department regarding arrangements for the return of the volunteers. Nearly every state has requested that the regiments be returned to the states whence they came, as the people want to see them as organizations instead of as individuals. If these be decided upon while awaiting muster out they will be held in camp either at San Francisco or at state camps where these exist.

It was asserted that the soldiers preferred to be mustered out at San Francisco, as they then will receive travel pay to their homes and can make transportation rates that will give them some extra money. The government, however, has the option of transporting them to the place where it received them and may decide to follow that plan if, upon further investigation, it should be deemed feasible.

ADJOURNS TODAY TO MAY 31.

Mazet Committee Developed the Growth of the Freedman Surety Company.
Crime in New York.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Mazet investigating committee is expected to adjourn today until May 31.

The committee spent the greater part of Thursday's session in an attempt to show the respective bonding interests of city employees held by the so-called Freedman and the so-called Platt Surety company. Counsel Moss, for the committee, after an elaborate examination into this matter, said that the significant feature of what has been shown was the growth of the Freedman company, the youngest of all the bonding companies, during the past year or two in the bonding of city officials.

Police Commissioners Hess and Abell were on the stand for a short time. Commissioner Hess agreed with Counsel Moss in an expression of an opinion that facts of a suspicious nature had been presented before the committee. Commissioner Abell stated that he had accepted the position of commissioner with a view to first performing his duty and, second, to protecting the Republican members of the police force.

He, too, agreed that there was considerable crime in the city of New York, but he failed to furnish any significant details to aid the committee. Sheriff Dunn was on the stand for a brief period, but his counsel was permitted to take his place and to explain the bonding of officers in the sheriff's department by the Freedman company.

STEAMER PUFFS BACK DUE TO FIRE.

Rev. Dr. Briggs and Col. Thomas Keenan
Among the Passengers.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The North German Lloyd steamship Barbarossa, which sailed for Southampton and Bremen, was discovered on fire while she was passing Sandy Hook and put back to port. The fire was in the cargo in the forward hold. The Barbarossa fought the fire with steam and water, and with the aid of wrecking tugs and fireboats drowned it out about two hours later while lying at quarantine.

The vessel, while on her way up the river after the fire, hit the French liner La Bretagne, lying at her pier in North river, shoving the Bretagne's bow through two ice barges, the Richard Foster and the Leroy, sinking them. No one was injured.

She may resume her voyage today. Among the 336 cabin passengers on board were Dr. Charles A. Briggs and family and Colonel Thomas Keenan of Pittsburg, president of the League of American Wheelmen.

Senator Jones Was Much Improved.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Letters received in this city indicated that Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, had a pleasant voyage across the Atlantic and that his health was much improved. The senator himself said he had not felt better at any time during the past ten years. It is likely that Senator Jones and party will journey on the Isle of Wight for several weeks.

Murray May Be Sentenced Tomorrow.

PITTSBURG, May 19.—The taking of testimony, to fix the degree of crime, of Dr. Charles Murray of Sewickley, who pleaded guilty to killing his father's butler, was finished. It is believed he will be sentenced tomorrow.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card ask for it when making purchases.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

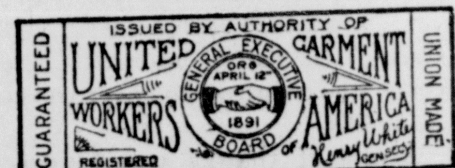

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union-made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

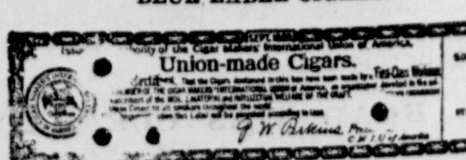

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL

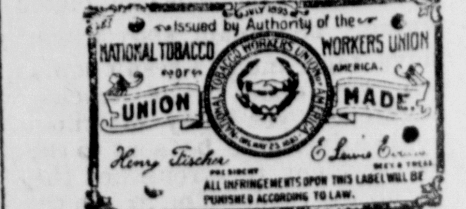

The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

TOBACCO LABEL.

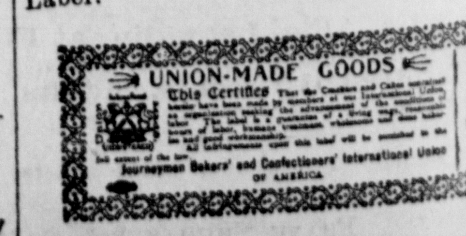

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

SIGNAL CORPS' WORK.

Effective Service In the Operations About Manila.

Brave Officers and Men Praised

From the Outbreak of Hostilities It Was Possible For the Different Commanders to Transmit and Receive Instructions—Peculiar Effect of Battle Action on the Sick.

General Greely, chief signal officer of the army, has received from Lieutenant Colonel R. E. Thompson, chief signal officer at Manila, a report under date of March 4 of the operations of the signal corps in the campaign against the Filipino insurgents, from the outbreak of hostilities down to the time the report was made. The report says:

"As previously indicated, the situation at the beginning of February was practically that of hostile armies in contact; our men chafing at the restraint; the insurgents believing us held back by fear alone—each eager to get at the other. In anticipation of trouble, a company of signalmen was assigned to each division of the army, the commanding officer of the First company reporting to General Anderson with charge of lines south of the Pasig and with instructions to maintain communications as troops advanced; the Eighteenth company reporting to General MacArthur, with similar orders for the maintenance of communications north of the river.

"Several of our outposts, notably those of the Nebraska, Montana, Pennsylvania and Colorado regiments, had been pushed so far to the front as to suggest trouble to wires in case of an attack. A few rockets were therefore placed at each and a code prearranged. The positions assigned the various commands in case of action were such as to encompass the city with a line of battle, the flanks of which rested on the bay. At each flank a flag station was established for communication with the ships of the navy, anchored offshore in position to enfilade an attacking enemy.

"Our relations with the Filipinos were so strained and their hostility so apparent that on several occasions the call to arms had been sounded, and at these times the rapid assembling of the army in position had the practical effect of developing shortcomings and perfecting preparations, so that when the outbreak actually occurred everything moved without friction and without mishap, save to the telegraph. Orders had been issued, enjoining upon guards and patrols that tampering with telegraph lines be not permitted. In the darkness of the night, however, the long stretches advanced to outposts—especially those through thickly settled native districts—were at the mercy of the hostile element, despite the most constant watchfulness, and as soon as firing began the exterior lines north of the Pasig went down at once. It was most comforting, however, to see rockets almost immediately announcing disrupted circuit, attack and ability to withstand, from each of the threatened positions.

"On the night of the 4th, at about 8:30 o'clock, rifle shots were heard from the direction of Santa Mesa, a suburb eastward of the town held by the First Nebraska. The firing soon grew to such proportions as to leave no doubt of its meaning, and shortly dispatches came in stating that the affair began by our patrol halting an insurgent, who refused to obey; that a shot was then fired at him, but without returning the shot he went back to his blockhouse, from which point the insurgent guard fired at random in the direction of our patrol, who returned the fire. A number of scattering shots on both sides then followed. The Nebraskans at once turned out, and it was not long before the action became general.

"On the 5th our troops took the initiative and, advancing in all directions, ran the battle line flush with the farthest outpost and in many instances passing beyond the outer telegraph station, so that it became necessary to carry forward the wires. This part of the work was executed with celerity, and at all times after the first disheartening breakdown it was possible for the different commanders to transmit and receive instructions with speed and certainty, and the increase in the use of the wire due to field operations may be somewhat judged from the fact that the number of messages handled on the day preceding the battle was 515 and on Feb. 5 (the day of the action) was 1,120, since which time the use of the telegraph has steadily increased, today showing the messages handled to be 1,200, with a total of 30,534 for the month, and so great a dependence has come to be placed on this method of communication that instructions have been issued permitting only such as have a military bearing to be handled on occasions when the rush is greatest.

"It is questioned if an opportunity ever offered where the telegraph could be more effectively used by an army than in the present case. Our operations thus far have been entirely on interior lines, the movement of troops simply entailing the rapid running forward of light lines. In the case of the Calocan fight (an occasion on which an advance required the laying of considerable wire) a telegraph office set up at the extreme front was ready within a few minutes after the forward movement had ceased, and the division commander announced his success and the results almost immediately after their achievement.

"During the burning of the northern part of the town and the invasion of Tondo on the 23d, a field officer was cut in the heart of the blazing district almost as soon as operations for expelling the insurgents had become effective. It is possible to reach any command, depot, outpost or individual of the army from 29 different telegraph offices, the only delay being consequent on the great volume of business and the necessity for precedence in order of importance. The greatest credit is due the signal officers and men, who have made this extensive telegraph system so perfect that, in case of engagements at any part of the long line of battle, commanders co-operate with certainty, surgeons receive prompt information and have their ambulance almost immediately on the ground, and the supply departments send their transportation, ammunition, rations, etc., where required, without the least delay.

"To Captain Russel is due the greatest credit for the operations on the north, the front of the line of battle of which he was to keep himself and commanders informed being something over ten miles in length. It is not unlikely that personally he finds most satisfaction in the rough, dangerous work performed by himself, officers and men under the heavy fire of the 5th or during the advance on Calocan, but it is probable that the commander whose division he served would award equal credit for the success of his service with the fleet, with the parties advancing to capture the waterworks, and for his general efficiency in anticipating needs and improvising means under the trying conditions of lack of men and suitable material for so great a field of operations. So also with Lieutenant Charles E. Kilbourne, Jr., in charge of communications for Anderson's division. To his credit falls the performance of one of the most conspicuous and telling acts of that hot day, the 5th, when, under fire at short range of a body of insurgents ensconced in Paco church, and in the line of fire of our own infantry, he personally effected the repair of an important wire.

"Lieutenant F. H. Bailey gave ample evidence of thoroughness and reliability in his extensive line work from Santa Mesa to the Deposito, and thence to the pumping station, and in fearlessly connecting up blockhouses and advance points. Lieutenant Charles H. Gordon's excellent work on the shore in maintaining communication with the navy, though cut off with his party and under fire off and on for 36 hours, is another instance of devotion to duty and its intelligent performance.

"The peculiar effect of battle action on the sick is a remarkable feature of the outbreak. Notwithstanding the large number of wounded added to the list, the number of patients remaining in hospital at the end of the first day's fighting was less than at the beginning. Four of the signal officers had long been prostrated by typhoid fever, and their convalescence had been exasperatingly slow. The strongest of these, Lieutenant A. J. Rudd, reported for duty at once, but was not permitted immediately to take the field, though intrusted with charge of the central station. A chance to participate in the capture of Calocan, however, set him up and made a well man of him immediately, and the opportunity being given, he ran the wire to the front over the open line of railway under continuous fire from start to finish, and so beneficial has been the result of intense action that he has been continuously on duty ever since, most of the time at the immediate front.

"Captain E. A. McKenna, convalescing at the Corregidor hospital, heard of the fighting at Manila and came at once and, though still apparently unfit for duty, took command of his company on the 11th and has added to his already exceedingly bright record by the most efficient service in skirmishes, engagements and advances that have since fallen to the share of the First division. He, too, has been made well. Though it seemed hardly prudent that Captain Philip J. Perkins should be allowed to leave the hospital so soon, he has not been content until assigned duties within his strength and is now in the midst of organizing and equipping the new signal company recently authorized since the tremendous expansion of business has developed the inadequacy of the present force.

"The following have rendered especially conspicuous service: Sergeant Thomas A. McKinstry, Corporals William F. Schoeneman and Fred Shalda, and first class Private Tracy E. Inman, in repairing lines under heavy fire, and Sergeant Daniel Hopkins for similar work through a burning village; Corporal Fred Gellerman, in carrying wounded from the field under fire; Sergeants Emmet R. Jones and William W. Howser, Corporal Fritz M. Biebel, and first class Private Allen B. Forman, in maintaining signals with the navy from Fort Malate while compelled to stand on the ramparts under fire, Howser and Biebel also marking the advance of the line with flags during a charge; Sergeants Paul O. Paulson, David T. Flannery and Arthur A. Alexander and Private Allen Kirby, for excellence of their service in signaling under fire at Calocan; Sergeant Augustus N. Maxliner and first class Privates John K. Weir and Clarence J. Prendergast, for long and trying service under fire at outposts, and first class Private Herschel B. Young, for carrying an important dispatch to blockhouse in face of a heavy fire.

"The order for the Iloilo command to make a landing was received the morning of the 11th. Information of the intention and an ultimatum were sent to the insurgents at 3:30 p. m., giving them time to withdraw or surrender. On the morning of the 12th, instead of withdrawing as expected, they began throwing up intrenchments. A couple of warning shots from the Petrel brought a return fire, to which the Petrel and Boston replied, directing everything against the fort. Immediately the town was set afire by the insurgents, and the flames spread rapidly over the south end. The detachment under Captain Tilly aboard the Newport then, in accordance with instructions, directed the disembarking of troops from the Arizona and St. Paul by signals and also worked with the cruiser Boston, through which a tow of boats, containing part of the Tennessee regiment, was landed. A signal station was soon established within the fort, opening up communication with the ships and transports and the telegraph put in operation out to the line of the burning buildings. The town was soon cleared of insurgents, and the troops advanced to the Jaro and Molo bridges.

"In the construction of telegraph lines through the burning district the men suffered greatly from the smoke and heat and occasionally received a scattering fire. The signal party sent with the force to capture Jaro worked in the midst of a sharp action. Later the office of the captain of the port was put into communication with the navy. The provost marshal's office, Iloilo, the Eighteenth infantry at Jaro, General Miller's headquarters at the junction of Jaro and Molo roads, and the headquarters of the Tennessee regiment at Molo bridge were in telegraphic communication, the offices being operated day and night in consequence of the unsettled condition.

"A most interesting series of photographs has been taken during action. The work has been executed under the personal supervision of Captain George E. Lawrence, many of the pictures representing actual battle scenes, to secure which has necessitated the exposure of Lawrence to sharp fire repeatedly. The prints and original negatives are already sent to Washington.

"Just before the outbreak it had become evident that the Cavite cable would not last much longer. The Manila reach, consisting of light insulated wire, had become so weak that just after the opening of hostilities, while buoying the joint, it gave way. The old cable was grappled and the new pieces spliced in and laid with such expedition that the interruption of communication with Cavite was hardly noticeable. Much credit is due to Lieutenant Edward E. Kelly for his management of the technical part of the work. The cable is laid sufficiently inshore to avoid the anchorage of heavy craft, but in sufficient depth to insure against probability of interference by insurgents."—New York Sun.

Would Have Done the Same.

Rudyard Kipling undoubtedly got his wit from his maternal grandfather, the Rev. George B. Macdonald, a Wesleyan clergyman. It is related of this bright Macdonald that in the days when he was courting the lady whom he afterward married the father-in-law to be—an aged Methodist with extremely strict notions in regard to the proprieties—was injudicious enough on one occasion to enter the parlor without giving any warning of his approach. The consequence was that he found the sweethearts occupying a single chair.

Deeply shocked by this spectacle the old man solemnly said: "Mr. Macdonald, when I was courting Mrs. Brown she sat on one side of the room and I on the other."

Macdonald's reply was: "That's what I should have done if I had been courting Mrs. Brown."—Troy Press.

A Heroic Remedy.

Malta's way of treating rheumatism is a trifle heroic, but a generation brought up on mustard plasters and electricity ought not to object to it. The patient is stripped and bees are cordially invited to settle upon his body. It amuses the bees and cures the rheumatism, so it seems to be a philanthropic system all around. The poison in the bee stings is said to neutralize the acid in the blood which is responsible for the rheumatism.

A Wonderful New Violet.

Signor Emilio Borgiotti, an enthusiastic lover of flowers, near Pistoja, Italy, has succeeded in producing a new species of violet six centimeters in diameter and having from 70 to 100 petals. Signor Borgiotti has presented some of his precious violets to Queen Margherita and to the Duchess of Aosta, as well as to many women of the aristocracy, but in spite of the entreaties of many florists he still refuses to place them on the market or to reveal the cross by which he has obtained this marvelously beautiful flower.—Rome Cor. London Leader.

Feeding the Fire.

The most powerful engine must stop if the fires are not fed. Man is the most wonderful piece of machinery in the world, yet no matter how strong and well-made his bodily frame may be, if the fire of life within him is not constantly fed his limbs and muscles become powerless and useless. The reason men become helpless and diseased is because the food they eat, which is the fuel of life, is not properly digested and appropriated by the stomach and nutritive organs. It is not completely transformed into the strength and working power which is to man what steam is to the engine.

That wonderful power-making "Golden Medical Discovery," invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., imbues the human digestive juices and blood-making glands with capacity to extract abundant nourishment from the food. It builds up organic tissue, nerve fiber, hard muscular flesh and working force. It gives a man steam.

What it did for Mr. F. S. Hughes, of Junction, Hunterdon Co., N. J., is given in his own words. He writes: "I received your kind letter, and in reply would say that mine was a bad case of kidney and liver trouble, and that six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and four bottles of little 'Pelllets' effected a complete cure. It is well known that almost every engineer is troubled more or less with kidney trouble, especially on our fast express trains. I run one hundred and forty-four miles on these trains every day in the week, and have had no return of the trouble since taking the remedies, nearly three years ago."

WHAT THIS MAN SAYS

Only Reechoes the Sentiments of Thousands In Our Republic.

The East Liverpool reader is asked to thoroughly investigate the following. This can readily be done as the gentleman whose statement is published below will only be too pleased to give minute particulars to anyone enquiring, not out of idle curiosity, but if the enquirer really suffers from any of the consequences which always attend weakened or inactive kidneys. Read carefully what William Terrence, fireman at Engine House No. 1, has to say:

"For some time I have been annoyed with symptoms of either weakened or over-excited kidneys. I had noticed more than one recommendation made by people living in East Liverpool about Doan's Kidney Pills, and thinking that if the medicine performed half what it promised, it might help me, I bought a box at Larkins' drug store. They cured me."

~THE~ PERFECTION COUCH

Guaranteed For Four Years.

AN ideal Couch is one which is perfect in comfort and would last forever. The Perfection Couch is the nearest approach to the ideal which modern skill and invention could produce. The only portions of the couch not made of steel are the wooden frame, the soft upholstering material and the cover. The springs rest on patent steel supports, which can never give way. On the tops of the springs is placed a steel constructed woven wire, upon which the bur-lap, filling material and cover are upholstered. This construction has withstood the severest tests, and we guarantee that Perfection Couches will not break down. The buttons are fastened without the use of twine, and an inspection of them will convince any person that they will never pull out. While the great end sought in constructing the Perfection Couches was durability, it was also made with a special view to comfort, and the resiliency and seating quality obtained by this method is absolutely perfect. Every Perfection Couch is elegant in workmanship and new in design. A handsomer line of couches has never been offered for sale.
